A large passenger boat passed within 200 feet of him, Burke said, but his cries for help were unheard. Burke was taken to a local hospital. Coast guardsmen instituted a search for Knight's body.

ACCUSED SON STILL MISSING

Search For Streator, Ill., Youth Accused Of Killing Mother, Continues.

FORMAL CHARGE FACED BY YOUTH

(International News Service)

STREATOR, Ill., Aug. 25.—The coroner's jury investigating the murder of Mrs. Eliza Hill, wealthy divorcee, today discontinued further deliberations pending the result of the analysis of blood stains found on the staircase leading to the basement of the Hill home where Mrs. Hill's body was found buried in a shallow grave last Monday night.

The blood-stained boards were taken from the staircase when the jury visited the scene of the crime late last night.

Meanwhile Lasalle county authorities are making every effort to locate Harry Hill, ne'er-do-well son of the murdered woman, who has been formally charged with her killing. He was last seen in Chicago at the home of William Bridges, a former resident here, and a close friend.

Further indication that Mrs. Hill was murdered by her son as a result of financial difficulties arising out of a number of checks which the boy had forged in her name, was disclosed today, according to police, when it developed that he was seen at his home last Sunday afternoon mopping the south porch of the Hill residence in the exclusive section of Streator.

He has never been known to take any interest in the home on any previous occasion. Since the separation between his mother and Dr. H. C. Hill, local eye, ear and nose and throat specialist, three years ago, he has virtually made his home at a Streator hotel, despite the father's insistance that he take up permanent abode with his mother.

FIND ROUTES NOT CORRECT

State Department Says Some Private Route Maps Are Wrong.

CHARGE DELIBERATE EFFORT TO DECEIVE

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Pa., Aug. 25.—Spurred to action by the refusal of some map makers and resort owners to cooperate in furnishing correct road information, the department of highway today started an active campaign to prevent the dissemination of misleading road information.

During the present summer the attention of the department has called repeatedly to maps and pamphlets issued in the interests of private concerns which purposely give wrong routings of main highways in order to induce traffic on little traveled roads.

Booklets printed in the interest of resorts and hotels have shown such highways as the William Penn, Lincoln and Susquehanna trail as routed hundreds of miles from the official designations of the department.

As a result of this misinformation, the publicity bureau of the department has been swamped with complaints from motorists who fell victims to privately distributed maps.

In a statement criticizing the practice, Secretary of Highways James L. Stuart said:

"It is not fair to the motoring public or the residents of Pennsylvania to mislead the public in the manner that has been attempted through the mediums of these maps, guides and booklets. The department of highways is ready at all times to furnish correct information on state highway routes, and there is no excuse for error in this connection."

Highway officials admitted that a list of offenders is being prepared and that as a last resort they may make it public if other means of correcting the trouble fail.

Rome Fliers Hope To Get Away Today, Plane Made Ready

Bertaud And Hill Provision Fokker Plane For Hop To Rome

(International News Service)

CURTISS FIELD, N. Y., Aug. 25.—Old Glory, the single-motored Fokker monoplane in which Lloyd W. Bertaud and James DeWitt Hill will attempt a flight to Rome, was taken from its hangar here this morning, to be flown to Roosevelt field and there placed in the mound from which its trans-Atlantic take-off is to be made. Hill will fly the plane to Roosevelt field, where it was to be fueled and provisioned.

Both Bertaud and Hill expressed a belief that the trans-Atlantic take-off could probably be made sometime between 3 and 6 p. m. today. A gentle north wind was blowing this morning, which was expected to shift to westerly this afternoon.

Should weather conditions prevent a star of the long hop this afternoon, the monoplane will remain on the mound, ready for the start at the first favorable opportunity, Bertaud said.

NEW TRAFFIC REGULATION IS NOW IN EFFECT

New Safety Zone Is Established On South Mill Street Near Bridge

Operation of the South Side district street cars from Market Way on South Mill street and the elimination of parking on South Mill street from Market Way to the Neshannock river bridge, has relieved traffic conditions in a very marked manner.

While the people of the South Side found it rather inconvenient to walk a few feet farther to take a car, they are now becoming accustomed to it and there is a growing sentiment that it is for their safety and convenience.

The move was made, because of the fact that when the cars loaded and unloaded traffic at Mill and Washington streets, that there was an almost constant tieup of traffic when the car was in, because it was impossible to pass down Mill street from Washington street, when the car was there and taking on or letting off passengers.

And also for the reason when a car was progressing down Mill street, that there was not space for the car and an automobile to pass in opposite directions, when cars were parked at either side of the street.

It is believed that the move is becoming popular and will become a regular regulation of the city in that district.

into the eight-day search, no trace has yet been found of Mildred Doran, 22-year-old "flying schoolmarm," and her six comrades, who are lost in three racing planes somewhere in the Pacific.

Not A Clue

The aircraft vessels, Langley and Aroostook, which have been working out over the Great Circle course with a convoy of destroyers will turn back today. Planes catapulted from the deck of the Langley have searched the water for miles in every direction as the mother ships slowly moved toward the mid-Pacific islands. Not a clue, not a trace of the missing planes was found.

The light Cruiser Omaha and six destroyers, which were diverted into the hunt Tuesday, will continue the search from their present position, following the ocean drift as far as Hawaii.

In Hawaiian waters, the minesweeper Pelican and two seaplanes search off the island of Kauai. Every mile off Hawaii for 40 miles has been thoroughly combed.

Careful search of the slopes of Mauna Kea, Hawaii's highest mountain, failed to disclose the source of a brightly-burning green flare, sighted by an army officer last Sunday. Martin Jensen, winner of second prize in the Dole Derby circled the mountain in his trans-Pacific plane, Aloha.

pleasant and a sky that promised no rain. The result was a stream of automobiles rolling into the city early this morning, crowded interurban cars and the city cars were packed at 9 o'clock this morning.

In order to allay any fear that they would overpark their cars, the city authorities issued parking privilege stickers which allow the visitor to park as long as he pleases, except in prohibited areas. This means that the customer coming in from the country can park his car on the street and then shop all day without fear of a tag. A pretty courtesy.

Merchants Pleased.

Every merchant seen today expressed himself as well pleased with the success of the day. Real bargains are being offered, and the Lawrence county housewives, ever alert to bargains, are taking full advantage of the opportunity.

Dollar Day is sponsored by the Better Business bureau of the Chamber of Commerce. The idea has been used a number of times in New Castle, but few of the previous Dollar Day sales have attracted the number of people to the downtown area as did today's.

Success of today's sales event is attributed by merchants to News advertising, along with recognized bargains offered.

FIREMEN CHECK BAD BLAZE IN RESTAURANT

and firemen from the central and Park avenue departments reached the scene, dense smoke was rolling from the building, coming out of the floors above the restaurant, as well as from the restaurant room.

By effective work the firemen soon located the source of the blaze and quelled the flames, checking what appeared at the time to be a fire that doomed the building. The fire was confined to the restaurant room.

Grease Takes Fire

It is the belief of the firemen that the fire originated when grease near the cook stove ignited, someone apparently having forgotten to turn off the fire in the stove before the restaurant was closed for the night.

Estimates of the damage done are about $1,200, divided between the loss suffered by the owner of the restaurant, James Staful, and the owners of the building, the Falls estate heirs. Loss is covered in part by insurance.

The proprietor of the restaurant said that everything seemed in good order when he closed up the place about 10 o'clock. The fire was discovered about 11:35 p. m.

NO LONGER IGNORED

SANTA MONICA, Cal., Aug. 25.—Hereafter, bathing beauty contests will not be confined to the graceful lines of only feminine forms at Santa Monica. Men, too, will have a chance to exhibit their shapely forms when the annual state convention will be held here in October. Fat, thin, tall, short, bushy-haired or bald, they all will have a chance to participate in the men's beauty parade.

MAYOR SAYS CANNED HEAT SALES INCREASE

Believes Promises Made To Him Are Being Broken In City

Sales of canned heat and alcorub are again causing an influx of drunks in the city police court. The habitual drunks and some new ones, buy alcorub, when flush of money; and canned heat, when money is scarce.

Some time ago, Mayor Dunlap sought and received the assurance of a majority of the druggists and others handling these articles, that they would refrain from selling them, or keep a strict supervision over the sales, that would prevent them from being used for beverage purposes.

Apparently some have forgotten their agreement in the matter, Mayor William H. Dunlap stated this morning.

As a result, he has directed certain business men dealing in these articles to visit him in the next few days and make a new agreement.

If the sales cannot be stopped in this manner, the mayor feels disposed to attempt some other form of action, that will result in the elimination of these products as a source of drunkenness in the city.

STATE COLLEGE ATHLETIC ACTION

ANNOUNCEMENT of action being taken by the authorities of Penn State to the effect that purely athletic scholarships are to be abolished at that institution with the coming of October, is one that will create widespread attention throughout the collegiate world.

To those who are on the outside looking in, the move will meet with unanimous approval. To those who are a little more familiar with college and school affairs, there will be some little doubt as to the wisdom of the move. These latter will express a fear that perhaps some worthy athlete will be deprived of schooling that he would otherwise acquire.

Weighing all of the facts however, it is believed that the State College action is a good one, and it is to be hoped that it will be followed by similar action by other large schools.

In too many of our educational institutions today, athletics are given prominence all out of proportion to their importance. Especially is this true with regard to football. Winning of games seems to be the paramount issue in some of the institutions, to the detriment of other phases of school activity.

Balanced athletics are what should be desired in all schools. But when they get so far overbalanced as they have in some institutions some action to bring about a restoration of normalcy is needed. The move by Penn State may be one that will work in this direction.

SHENANGO TOWNSHIP PROGRESS

EYES of the educational world will be turned toward Lawrence county during the next year or two.

For, in Shenango township, there will be found one of the most advanced educational steps to be noted in the nation. The consolidation of nine schools in the township, and the erection of the consolidated school at East New Castle, is about the largest public school effort of this nature that has been undertaken in the United States, local educators announce.

Hence, the workings of the consolidated school plan here will be of unusual interest.

There is no doubt on the part of Shenango township school authorities and the county school heads, as to operation of the school, however. They have worked out the plan after much study, and they are confident that Shenango township is going to be one of the successful pioneers in an undertaking of such magnitude.

Certain it is that the school children of Shenango township are to secure educational advantages by the consolidation of the small schools that will be much greater than would be possible under the old one room school plan.

THE BIG DITCH

IN NO small degree does the Panama Canal account for the present place of the United States in world commerce and that it is contributing to the national prosperity is indisputable.

This great route of world trade is bringing business to this country and daily carries American goods bound for ports of distant lands. It has given the American exporter an advantage over foreign competition and benefited billions by expediting the distribution of the world's goods and lowering the cost of delivery.

Each succeeding year produces a marked increase in the business of the Panama Canal. In the last twelve months 6,265 ships with a tonnage of 26,227,815 passed through its channel. They paid $24,230,065 in tolls.

Though the Suez Canal was completed in 1869, nearly half a century before the opening of the Panama Canal, the American waterway has already overtaken it in volume of shipping carried. Another year may see the Panama Canal leading in both number and tonnage of ships. The Suez is rapidly losing its title as most largely patronized artificial waterway of ocean commerce.

The Suez Canal opened up the East to European merchandise and exerted a civilizing influence upon Asia and parts of Africa. The Panama Canal did as much for parts of South and Central America.

When President Roosevelt said his public career was best commemorated by the Panama Canal the famous "cut" was doing only a fraction of its present business. Did he appreciate the full significance of his remark?

Hints and Dints

Sun sets tonight 6:44. Sun rises tomorrow 5:21.

A candidate has to be mighty careful as to what he says and what he does and very often how he parks his car. People are just looking for an excuse to rap a candidate and if they cannot find anything true on one they usually scare up a lie. We have been surprised at the kind of people who will lie like thieves in politics.

One of the many things that we cannot understand is how so many hot dog stands manage to exist along the highways of this country. We are sure that very few people ever visit one of those dumps the second time.

Some men seem to think that when they marry a woman she has beaten some other woman out of a good husband. Only cheap skates think that however.

A West Virginia man was killed by falling into a dough mixer in a bakery. It would be interesting to know just exactly how that machine would be cleaned to carry on it's regular business.

The fellow who mounts to the top of a circus tent on a strand of rope is an example of making money hand over fist.

It seems to us that some men who run for public office could be arrested on a charge of running for office on false pretense.

When a fellow joins all the lodges in town it is always a sign that he is going to try and put something over.

The best way to keep anarchists from getting too gay is to execute them just as soon as they have had a fair trial, but no red ever admitted he had a fair trial. Keeping those babies too long is not so good.

The boy scout can tell the name and habits of every bird he sees on the street. The college boy can tell only the "chickens" but he cannot tell 'em much.

There are people who will not give a corn roast because the price of butter is too high.

A few days ago Harry Good of Enon Valley dragged a couple of tomatoes into this office and gave instructions to the admiring fellow employes that no one should touch them except us. They sure are some fine specimens of tomatoes. Good tomatoes are scarce this summer and as ours are doing very scandalous the gift from Harry comes in just right.

The fellow who drives a sport model is in danger of getting that kind of a wife.

Congress is going to be asked to pass some kind of a new law that will keep people from making fool airship trips and do other things that cause much woe to those who have to look on. Not a bad idea.

President Coolidge is spending this week in Yellowstone National Park. That is a wonderful place and every American should see it before going to Europe to see something not half as good. The president will get an eyeful this week.

Mrs. Charley Chaplin testified in court that old funny feet never got home before one o'clock in the morning and that she seldom saw him when he did finally get home. Not many women would stand for that and most of them would want to see their sweeties long before that hour of the night. Aind Id?

It's just wonderful what some patriots can do if someone else furnishes the money.

If Noah only had the forethought to swat both flies when he had the chance, what a lot of trouble he would have saved the rest of us folks.

The foreigners who do not like this country and its laws and customs have nothing in their way to stop them from going back where they came from. They know why they do not want to go back, however. They string 'em up too quickly in foreign countries when they get red.

Man prays, "Give us this day our daily bread," but he goes out and works for a bonus.

Something should be done to make all automobile drivers responsible for any damage they might do. This thing of leting a lot of irresponsible yaps ram all over the country in some old ramshackle bus, killing and maiming at will, should not be allowed. If the same bozos went out with a pick handle and did only half the damage they do with an automobile they would be in the nearest jail before night.

A swell eating place is much like any other except that you pay 80 cents for a 10-cent sandwich.

JOIN THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE, AND SING YOUR SONG

If you think your town's the best,
Tell 'em so.
If you'd have it lead the rest,
Help it grow.
When there's anything to do
Let the fellows count on you,
You'll feel bully when it's through,
Don't you know?

If you're used to giving knocks,
Change your style.
Throw bouquets instead of rocks,
For a while.
Let the other fellow roast,
Shun him as you would a ghost,
Meet his hammer with a boast,
And smile.

When a stranger from afar
Comes along,
Tell him who and what we are—
Make it strong.
Needn't flatter, never bluff
Tell the truth, for that's enough:
Join the boosters—they're the stuff:
Sing your song.

Newspapers throughout the state praised very highly the suggestion that candidates refrain from placing their political advertising cards within the legal limits of any highway. They agreed that this display is practically a waste of money, inasmuch as it does the candidate very little, if any, good. In addition, it disfigures the landscape.

TODAY'S STORYETTE

A Scotchman who was the head of a large concern one day called into his private office his general manager, a young man who had made an enviable record for the company.

"My boy," said the Scotchman "I'm very proud of you. Your untiring efforts have increased my business something wonderful. Your integrity cannot be surpassed and to show you my appreciation of your efforts, I am giving you a check for $100,000.

If you can show me by the end of next year the same results, come into my office here—and I will sign the check."

The Rev. Dr. Shailer, Mathews, dean of the divinity school in Chicago university, says philosophy is of no use in religion, because we cannot analyze our religion. "The greatest moments are felt. You cannot define them in words. There is not a philosophical term in the language or the intellectual processes by which we seek to grasp the meaning of religion."

Philosophy has nothing to do with religion and religion has nothing to do with philosophy. Philosophy deals with problems that can be solved, or may be solved, by proof, argument, thought. Religion deals with questions entirely beyond our reach, that can be answered only by faith.

Mrs. Mary V. Nunn, who attends to publicity for the Women's Christian Temperance Union, says the W. C. T. U. orator did NOT say that she feared that Chamberlin and Levine, by drinking a glass of beer in Germany, would undo much of the good done by their flying achievement. Misquoted by a local reporter, she only said: "She feared there would be an aviation disaster if Chamberlin drank all the liquor offered him."

It is difficult for a Christian Temperance lady to know how harmless a glass of beer can be, as shown in the careers of George Washington, Thomas Jefferson and Woodrow Wilson. Or even a glass of wine, as shown at a well-known wedding feast, when water was changed to wine. Perhaps the W. C. T. U. ladies think it was non-alcoholic (wine). If so, why change the water?

The New York Central recently celebrated its 100th birthday and its growth from a "20-mile system" to the 7,000-mile system of today.

Early in the last century James Brisbane of Batavia, who had previously run a stage coach line from Buffalo to New York, built a small railroad between Rochester and Buffalo. The time table said the trains would run at certain hours "weather permitting."

He left to his two sons $2,000,000 worth of the original New York Central stock, before the Vanderbilts watered it. Luckily for his descendants, one of the two sons lost his million, making it necessary for the next generation to go to work.

Anybody can succeed, at least a little, in spite of poverty, because he MUST. The few that succeed IN SPITE OF WEALTH deserve most credit.

You read recently from abroad "British reviews urge England to accept United States demand for naval equality."

Unless this country is managed by 100 per cent dodos, we don't need England to "ACCEPT" anything. We do need the biggest air fleets and submarine fleets in the world, could easily AFFORD them, and would HAVE them, if we had a quarter of an ounce of brains.

As to cruisers, which are like shepherd dogs watching flocks, if England wants more of them because she has more commercial ships to watch, let her have them.

The cost of one battleship, spent for airplanes would easily take care of all the cruisers and battleships on the ocean. They would do it as easily as machine guns would take care of sheep dogs.

Senator Walsh of Massachusetts, when congress meets will introduce a bill to provide "a West Point of the air", a United States aviation academy, to take equal rank with West Point and Annapolis. An excellent suggestion, and "equal rank" is none too high, for in case of war the fliers would have to protect the obsolete warships and slow crawling army.

West Point and Annapolis should be changed to flying academies, and the sooner the better.

PHILOSOPHY

Oh, I have been happy out fishing,
Our there where the blue river bends,
I've had my full measure of laughter and pleasure,
I've had my full circle of friends.
And so when Old Trouble comes frowning
And it's my time to struggle, I say:
"Well, you've had your share of the blue skies and fair.
So don't be a whiner today."

On numberless mornings I've chuckled,
On numberless nights I've been gay;
I've played and I've sung with a jest on my tongue
And danced a good part of the way;
And so when the playtime is ended,
When it's my turn to stand up to care,
I say, "Well, you've had many pleasures, my lad,
Now show what your shoulders, can bear."

Oh, I have been favored by fortune,
And many a game have I won
Just because on that day all the luck came my way
And my rival was favored by none.
So whenever the fates seem against me,
When nothing will go as I'd choose,
I say, "It's all right, you can't win every fight,
Try hard, but don't whine if you lose."

Th' Saxis Abyssinienis, or Abyssinian Flowerin' Willow, which Mrs. Ike Lark paid such a fancy price fer last fall, has developed int' one o' th' most symmetrical little elm trees in this town.

It's amazin' th' number o' people who talk in five figures an' don't cut none.

Dr. Crane's Editorial

A TOTAL LOSS

As far as we can see there are many people who regard this man Lindbergh as a total loss.

He can't dance and what good is a fellow that never dances! What fun is there in going to a party with a boy who only sits around the wall and don't know how to shuffle his feet?

Then it is doubtful if he knows one card from another, and when we are all sitting in a friendly game the man who doesn't play any game of cards is nothing more than a spoil sport.

He is no "petter" and not much of a hand with the girls. So what use would a girl have for him

Neither does he swing a nasty flask of gin from his hip pocket. He only touched the wine of France with his lips and said he preferred lemonade or milk, and how are you going to have any fun with a man who will not drink with you! Drink has always been the sign of good fellowship and a man who will not take a drink is a piker.

All this man knows apparently is flying and fooling around with machinery.

Take it from the girl's standpoint, for instance, what fun would there be in marrying a man who could do nothing but fly across the Atlantic Ocean and wouldn't let you go along, or spent all of his time in fussing with machines?

There are all sorts of advertisements that we could recommend to Mr. Lindbergh's perusal.

He might get an encyclopedia and learn how to converse.

He might take a course in Jones's School of Manners and learn how to dance or, he might join the noble army of bootleggers and learn how to tell one kind of gin from another, if there is any other kind.

If he will brush up a little we might make something of him!

Bible Thought For Today

A HEARTENING PROPHECY:—Praise waiteth for thee, O God, in Zion: and unto thee shall the vow be performed: O thou that hearest prayer, unto thee shall all flesh come. Psalm 65:1, 2.

PRAYER:—Our Father, Thy Kingdom come. Thy will be done on earth as it is done in Heaven.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

THE METHUSELAH OF TREES.

The California Redwood is a magnificent tree, and the Sequoia is a glorified Redwood. The books will tell that the word "Sequoia" was the Indian name of one George Guess, a Cherokee Indian who was born at Tuskogee, Tennessee, about 1760, and died in 1843. The same books do not tell you anything about the Indian meaning of the word "Sequoia", but they do tell you that George Guess invented the Cherokee alphabet and taught the Cherokee Indian how to read their words, and communicate with each other by writings.

I talked with a woodsman in the Tuolomne grove of Sequoias, and he told me a different story. He says that the word "Sequoia" was the family name of a half breed who lived a long time ago between Lake Mono and Yosemite, who was himself a great woodsman, and he informed me that the tradition was that Sequoia died at the ripe old age of 129. The great tree which bears the name Sequoia is also a great liver—and the tradition of the forest, if not true, is very appropriate. It is especially fitting that a tree which is said to have lived more than four thousand years should be named after a human who had lived 129 years.

It is necessary to see this great tree and its present condition to realize how great is its vitality. In the Mariposa Forest, in the Tuolomne Forest, and in the Grove at Santa Cruz there is not a single Sequoia tree but does not show that it has passed through fire after fire during its lifetime. The hearts of some of these trees have been entirely consumed by fire. There is one in the Mariposa Forest called "The Telescope". The visitor may step inside of the tree, and look upward through the fire seared barrel to the light, 150 feet above. The tops of these trees have been shot out with lightning. Nowhere in California, but in the Santa Cruz Grove, is there a single Sequoia that retains its top. The great buttresses which are flung out at the base of the trees, are also seared with fire but the bark of the tree has resisted the flame, and still protects the sap which rises from the ground to support the boughs still green high in the air. The forests about these great trees have no doubt been absolutely destroyed time and time again by fire, and yet the Sequoias remain immune, seared, but still vital.

While scientists have pooh-poohed the story that these trees have lived more than four thousand years, and have insisted that they have counted the rings upon several and found none to show more than 1500, yet after viewing what the fires have tried to do, in vain, it is much easier to believe the Methuselah stories concerning the tree.

CHARLES B. DRISCOLL

WINNING THE NEXT WAR

An all-metal airplane that will carry 100 passengers is announced as the next adventure in manufacturing to be undertaken by Henry Ford.

Does it sound a trifle unreal to you? Do you get the impression that somebody is just talking? The plane will be under construction this fall. You will be accustomed to the sound of its six motors, as it flies over your house before two years have passed. And there will be bigger ones by that time.

Now we are really getting somewhere in prospects for aerial transportation of passengers. And I have a great idea for winning the next war. I pass it on freely to the War Department.

The great disadvantage of wars in the past has been that they have taken the best of the male population of the warring countries and have maimed and killed the fittest physical specimens. This system has led inevitably to lowering of the physical standards of the race. And not only physical standards. Idiots and simple-minded folk are not taken into the army or navy. They remain at home, to reproduce their kind. That's one of the sad features of war.

By the time the next really good war is arranged we ought to have airplanes carrying at least 500 passengers each, with a little crowding. Already it is possible to guide airplanes without pilots, by the use of distant radio control. By the time the next war is ready to be announced this system should be perfected, so that such remote control may be practical on a large scale and for great distances.

Now, here's my scheme for winning that war:

Put the universal draft into effect at once. Make strict physical and mental tests of every individual in this country. Draft the most fit for war duty at home. Draft the unfit for war duty in the enemy's territory.

Let the first expeditionary force be composed of all the convicted felons in this country. Load them into the giant ships of the air and by remote control guide the ships to safe landings in the enemy's territory. Let the criminals be armed if you will, and let them fight. But that is not so very important. Transport all of our felons into the heart of the enemy's country, and the situation will develop quite satisfactorily for us.

The next fleet should carry over into the enemy land all of our lunatics, idiots and mentally incompetent persons. If the enemy should not have surrendered by this time, it might become necessary to send another flight of big planes, carrying all our remaining public dependents, including the inmates of poorhouses, almshouses and homes for hopeless cripples. The final draft should consist of all persons over 80 years of age, and if the war should continue to the bitter end, we might be forced to transport some of our mildly insane citizens, courteously called cranks and nuts.

We would win the war. The enemy would go bankrupt trying to feed or hang or shoot all of our non-essential citizens of both sexes, and would give up in panic. And at home we would have left only the best, for the upbuilding of a greater America.

What's wrong with the scheme? Please tell me that.

$250 ALIMONY IS GRANTED TO MRS. GEISSLER

(International News Service)

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Aug. 25.—Mrs. Carroll Moore Geissler, formerly of San Francisco, was granted $250 weekly alimony and $2,000 counsel fees by Supreme Court Justice Humphrey J. Lynch here today, pending trial of her suit for separation from her husband, Arthur D. Geissler, formerly vice president of the Victor Talking Machine company, of Camden, N. J.

Mrs. Geissler bases her suit on an allegation of cruelty, charging that her husband maintained an "undue friendship" with Mrs. William Pope, of St. Louis, also known as Holly Cromwell.

Her husband, according to Geissler, lives at the Racquet and Tennis Club in St. Louis. Geissler opposed his wife's action, claiming she had "driven him from home by her tongue." He also alleged she frequently gambled against his wishes.

SEE HUGHES GAINING STRENGTH AS PRESIDENTIAL POSSIBILITY

Business And Financial Interests Seem To Be Adding To Support.

Seeking Out Likely Stand Of President Coolidge As To Successor.

By GEORGE H. MANNING.
(Washington Correspondent of the News.)

WASHINGTON, D. C. Aug. 25—The united force of powerful business and financial interest in the east and of the White House may result in the nomination of Charles Evans Hughes by the Republicans in 1928.

Current indications point definitely to the strengthening of the movement for Hughes following the choice of President Coolidge not to run. This movement was started more than a year ago by eastern Republicans, led by the New York delegation in congress and sponsored by conservative financial interests desirous of putting somebody in the White House who like its present occupant, is safe, sound and not given to experimentation.

Visit Coolidge.

The visit of Dwight L. Morrow, New York banker to President Coolidge in Rapid City last week is interpreted as a quest for the President's stand on his successor with a view toward starting in the east a campaign for the nomination of Hughes, in case Coolidge really means that he does not choose even to be "drafted" by his party.

Four months ago a single senator went to the White House at 7 o'clock one morning at the Presideint's invitation and talked with President Coolidge about the presidential situation for 1928. There, the story goes, the importance of nominating a man who at least would have a chance to carry New York against Al Smith, the necessity of selecting a man thoroughly sound in international affairs as well as domestic affairs, a man of outstanding high character and seriousness was emphasized.

Hughes was named as the man who could meet these requirements, as a man whose political career has been unquestionable in integrity and usually marked with boldness although never erratic or radical. He was further recommended as a man whose romination would be well received by powerful business interests.

Hoover's Status.

It is a curious thing how the chief business man of the administration, Secretary of Commerce Herbert Hoover, has not gained the whole-hearted support of the biggest business interests and bankers. Hoover is held in the highest regard by the upper middle class business interests, the business men who just miss being potentates of finance and commerce. It is possible that these tremendously big business concerns fear that he would enforce his own ideas rather than theirs. It is also possible that they feel that he has, to their advantage, extended to the smaller business interests resources formerly available only to the few large business and financial houses of the country.

In other words Hoover may be too full of ideas, and too democratic in the extension of business cooperation and marketing information to less dominating influences, through his tremendous extension of the services of the Department of Commerce.

Dawes Erratic.

Vice-President Charles G. Dawes also fails to get the support of the big business interests, because he is uncomfortably liable to erratic actions and utterances at times. Furthermore, he would not be likely to bring about the international cooperation which Hughes with his diplomatic background, could achieve, an international cooperation which the bankers of the East believe necessary to the full development of the opportunities of the United States for economic dominace.

Speaker Nicholas Longworth is not quite satisfactory to the politicians, largely because he is known to be a wet and a "good fellow." The politicians are convinced that the Republican nominee for President must at least appear to take the world very seriously. Speaker Longworth, it is feared, does not. Although he is by no means radically wet, nobody can say he is dry, and it is a fact that the Longworth family fortune was made in the wine business. In other words, while they are extremely different in some respects, Longworth has too many qualities in common with Al Smith to seem quite safe to the politicians.

It is known that many other conferences, not participated in by President Coolidge, have agreed that Hughes is the man for the Republican nomination in 1928.

Stand of Those Opposed to Hughes.

It is pointed out by those opposed to Hughes that the Republicans have never won with an Eastern candidate, except in the case of Roosevelt and Coolidge, whom accidents had already put into the White House. On the other hand, it has never lost with a mid-continental candidate, except in the case of Harrison in his second race. Eastern nominees lost in 1884 and with Hughes in 1916 Furthermore, with the Middle West in a state of ferment and discontent, rather inimical to the East, it is believed at this time that it may not go solidly Republican unless it can name its own candidate.

Then there is the matter of Hughes's support of the World Court and his apparent desire to see the United States participate in some international organization, such as the League of Nations. The Republicans might lose the anti-League support if they should nominate Hughes. He was responsible, as Secretary of State, for our acceptance of a share in the Dawes annuities, and many people fear he might, as President, alter the whole war debt situation.

Hughes 66 Years Old.

Charles Evans Hughes, who won New York for the Republicans as a liberal and a reformer, will be 66 years old before the Republican National Convention is held. That is a little above the usual age for a presidential candidate. Furthermore, the fact that he has been defeated once would be against him, despite the obvious change in his attitude toward politics and in his skill as a politician since his unsuccessful candidacy.

His public service has included two terms as governor of New York, nearly six years as an associate justice of the United States Supreme Court, four years as Secretary of State, and his distinguished leadership, as commissioner plenipotentiary of the United States, in the Internatianal Conference on Limitation of Armaments in 1921. Thus he has served in the executive, the judicial, and the diplomatic service of his country.

If the White House gives its support to Hughes, as it would probably like to do he can be nominated. For the Southern votes quite in the control of the president, combined with those of New York and Pennsylvania can determine the nomination. New York certainly would support Hughes unless he continues to insist that he is "too old," and Pennsylvania probably would.

The conviction of Eastern financiers that Hughes is slated to receive the administration's support in the Republican convention is believed in many quarters to account for the fact that the markets failed to show any particular disturbance over the Coolidge renunciation. Financial interests are convinced that he would carry on the Coolidge policies of caution and "soundness."

Police Nip Scheme Of Slickers Before Victims Appear

Youngstown Pair Fill Bottles With Water And Start Out To Sell "Liquor"

You can't fool all the people all the time, but—you can fool the person who thinks he is smart and wants a bit of liquor—most of the time.

At least that was evidently the theory on which two smart "Alecs" from the big city of Youngstown were evidently working on Wednesday afternoon, when they came over to the "village" of New Castle.

But it was evident that it would have worked better in some other city, especially when they failed to take into consideration the "arm of the law" as typified here by the police department.

They might well be designated as the "Gumps", Andy and Bim, if you were to judge from their resemblance one to another and the famous comic feature characters. They are said to be well connected in Youngstown.

But enough of that. Arriving here in the early afternoon, they visited a South Jefferson street store and asked for vinegar bottles. They were not obtainable.

Then they purchased three dozen root beer or beverage bottles. These they filled with water, wrapped in old newspapers and packed in pasteboard boxes.

Then they hired themselves a taxicab, placed their wet material in the same and started out over the city. They were hunting a victim who was thirsty and would pay a long price.

This is where the police happened in and a group of officers trailed the taxicab about the city until the two men became wise and said the "jigs up". The officers then took charge. They were taken to the police station, questioned and then it was suggested that they go back home, which they were glad to do. The bottles of water were confiscated.

According to the police authorities, these men were evidently looking for an easy mark to sell some "liquor", which would have been water in this case, as it was a number of years ago when a well known resident purchased a barrel of hard liquor only to find that it was water. The men had their car parked on North Jefferson street where they could go and beat it after they had made their sale.

Police Have Busy Time With Crowds In Boston Streets

Crowds Mill About Undertaking Shop Where Sacco And Vanzetti Repose

(International News Service)

BOSTON, Aug. 25.—Crowds milled about the little undertaking shop of Joseph Langone on Hanover street today waiting to view the bodies of Nicola Sacco and Bartolomeo Vanzetti.

A strong police detail was on hand to guard against disorder and storekeepers along the north end thoroughfare took the added precaution of boarding up their plate glass windows.

Scores were from nearby cities and towns, and hour by hour the crowds grew in size with the police having difficulty in keeping them moving.

Sightseeing auto busses added the undertaking shop and the Sacco-Vanzetti headquarters on Hanover street as part of their itinerary.

At the same time police learned that they had an added problem on their hands in connection with the "march of sorrow" Sunday afternoon. Thousands will be parading through the north end in the St. Agrippini celebration.

Miners Forsake Pilgrimage Into Non-Union Field

(International News Service)

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 25.—After vigorous arguments of Oral Daugherty, president of the Buchtel district of union miners, 500 union miners returned to their home today and forsook their pilgrimage into the non-union fields of the Pomeroy district, it was reported here by Adjutant General Henderson, after a telephone message from Major Ancil Thomas, state observer in the Athens district.

Many former union miners of the Hocking Valley mines are said to have left the district to work in the Pomeroy fields which have been operating as non-union on a $5 daily wage scale since 1917.

LOSING BEAUTY FOR WHAT?

Translations of the Bible in modern English add little, while they take away a great deal. The old, authorized version of the Bible has the simplicity and beauty and rhythm of fine poetry. Calling Noah's ark a "barge", and the Garden of Eden a park, and a "mess of pottage" a "red omelet" is making a poor substitution. Language beautifully used is rare enough. It's too bad to take out of the Bible some of the rarest expressions in English.

Hold Lost Planes Were Overloaded

Rickenbacker And Stinson See Possibility Of Fatal Tail Spin

DETROIT, Aug. 25.—Overloaded planes were responsible for the recent airplane disasters over the Pacific, according to statements made today by such famous aviators as Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker, America's ace of aces and Eddie Stinson, well known pilot.

The pilot's inability to see his instruments and ground also would have aided in turning the plane into the tail spin, they said.

"To reach their destination," said Stinson, "the Dole planes had to carry fuel loads that burdened them tremendously. They could be kept level and at controllable flying speeds so long as their pilots were able to see the ground, water or horizon, but when night came on a pilot might easily climb too steeply and them stall into a spin.

"On the other hand, assuming that the planes were not overloaded to the extent of critically reducing their speed ranges and eliminating the effectiveness of their instruments, if the lights went out and the instruments were not radial lighted, the pilot would be entirely dependent on his sense of balance. And that becomes confusing after he has been depending on it a few hours, in darkness or in fog."

Capt. Rickenbacker looks on the tail spin as the probable answer to the question of what happened to the lost flyers in the Hearst plane Golden Eagle, the Miss Doran, which carried Miss Mildred Doran of Flint, Mich., the flying schoolmarm, and the Dallas Spirit, last of the planes to leave Oakland.

He said that if a tail spin was what brought them down there is little chance that they are still alive.

"However," he added, "engine failure might have forced them down, and, like the late Commander John Dodgers and his crew, who were found alive after nine days' hunt, the Honolulu flyers may be alive and adrift."

Congress Leaders Hesitate On Cutting Down Taxation

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Exclusive Central Press Dispatch to New Castle News.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—Chairman William R. Green of the ways and means committee of the house of representatives, where all revenue bills originate, will be calling his group together quite awhile before the next session opens, they're telling us, to decide whether or not we're to get any tax reduction in the course of the coming winter.

To decide WHETHER?—good gosh! did we understand that correctly?

Why, we thought it was definitely understood OF COURSE we were going to get a BIG reduction.

That's what President Coolidge told us, surely. And Senator Smoot, the administration's great tax expert, said it would be at least $300,000,000. And Senator Robinson, the Democratic leader, said it OUGHT to be fully half a billion, if it hadn't been for Republican mismanagement. And Secretary of the Treasury Mellon had the surplus all figured out and everything.

How about this WHETHER business?

Well, ya see, there's nothing to get excited about. Everything's all right. Only it isn't. With that minor exception, the situation's as satisfactory as the most finicky financial expert could desire.

We have an elegant treasury surplus.

Instead of the mere $300,000,000 that Secretary Mellon originally estimated it at, it exceeds $600,000,000. If the cards hadn't been gummed the way they have, the Democrats might have had their half billion dollar tax reduction, with a comfortable jag of money left over to start another surplus on.

The trouble is, there are so many things to be done with this present surplus—besides reducing taxes.

To begin with, who knew the Mississippi river, AND tributaries, would act up as they have during this last season?

Flood control!—that'll have to come out of the surplus.

You can stop right there, if you like. Once let the subject of Mississippi flood control come up in congress—as it's going to, and shake Capitol Hill to its underpining—and goodbye surplus.

Flood control alone will be discussed in terms of billions.

Boulder Dam and a Great Lakes-to-the-Atlantic canal and a few other little problems in hydraulics will clamor for consideration also, but they'll resemble small change in comparison with the Mississippi river, AND tributaries, proposition. Still, even they'll make a three to six hundred million dollar surplus look sickish.

The next congress is likewise going to be bugs on racing—yeah, naval racing—with Great Britain.

That was a cinch from the minute the Geneva conference blew up. It amounted to a challenge to this country from the British. We may not fully understand yet that that was what it amounted to—because it's hard for an ordinary person to get the significance of all the diplomatic sleight of hand the experts pulled off at Geneva—but our big navy folks will make it clear to us in due season.

We simply have our choice between letting the British it into us, and outbuilding 'em—that's the size of it. Naturally we'll go to work to outbuild 'em.

If it were necessary, it would be easy to tell what's going to become of the rest of our surplus, but it ISN'T necessary, because this is one of the times when there won't BE any more.

However, whadda the most of us care if they DON'T reduce taxes! It was only SUPER-taxes they were talking about reducing, anyway.

Let Green and his committee get all the fun they can out of it.

Don't scrub to get a whiter wash

Clothes last longer, keep their colors better, when you use Rinso.

WHY rub, scrub and boil the life out of clothes when they can be soaked so much whiter?

All you need to do is use Rinso instead of ordinary soap. Even in hard water it gives thick, creamy suds that loosen dirt and stains. And they float off by themselves in the rinsing!

You don't need a washboard. You don't need to ruin your hands by scrubbing. Rinso itself does all the work—and gets clothes whiter.

So safe that the makers of 30 leading washing machines urge its use. Get it from your grocer and follow the easy directions on the package.

Sciatic-Neuritis

The sciatic nerve, situated at the back of the hip joint is frequently the subject of Neuritis, giving rise to the painful disease Sciatica. The symptoms are intense pains which shoot down the thigh to the foot, often aggravated by walking, and with painful points along the course of the nerve, very tender to the touch.

The trouble is a very obstinate one and does not readily respond to ordinary treatment. It takes more than the usual pain sedative even to alleviate the pain. The best way to get relief from the persistent nerve racking pains of Neuritis is to get a bottle of Allenrhu Special Formula No. 2, which comes in capsule form. Take them as directed and in about 24 hours you should be able to notice that they have considerably reduced, if not almost banished, all pain and soreness. Continue faithfully and in a reasonable time you should be able to work and rest in comfort once again. McKee's Kut Rate Store keeps Allenrhu Special Formula No. 2 in stock all the time and sells lots of it.

State Motor Law Queries

Each day a great many Pennsylvania motorists write to Pennsylvania Motor Federation at Harrisburg for information concerning the motor vehicle laws, regulations of the State Highway Department and roads in Pennsylvania. Many of these queries are of general nature. In the belief that the questions and their answers will solve problems of other motorists, the Motor Federation from day to day will publish questions and answers in Pennsylvania newspapers. The one will be found below.

Mountain Driving

Q. I am accustomed to driving the flat roads of Illinois. I am told the hills on the Lincoln Highway in Pennsylvania are very dangerous. Is this true?

A. Grades on the Lincoln Highway are no more dangerous to a careful driver than are the flat roads of Illinois. The driver who disregards the laws of gravity and of a body in motion is in as much danger on a level road as he is on a steep decline. The Pennsylvania Highway Department has widened the Lincoln Highway through the mountainous section, has erected guard railing wherever needed, has cut down grades and eliminated curves wherever possible. A careful driver is in no danger whatever. There are hills where you will find it necessary to go into second gear to save your brake lining.

CASTLE COUNCIL WILL CELEBRATE

Fifth Anniversary Of Local Jr. O. U. A. M. To Be Observed October 19

Plans for the fifth anniversary of Castle Council No. 365, of the Jr. O. U. A. M., have been practically completed.

The celebration will begin October 17, and from indications October 19 will be the biggest night the Jr. O. U. A. M. has had in New Castle for the past 39 years.

On October 17, 1922, Castle Council was instituted at New Castle, and 87 members were present on the night of installation. Organized by the efforts of George Nesbitt of Pittsburgh, the council was installed by State Councillor Joseph Beaverson, who was aided by the entire state board and several of the national officers.

Since its institution in 1922, Castle Council has grown to nearly 500 members, and has participated in many affairs of the city and the county. They have presented flags to the Scotland Lane Centralized high school, to the Clifton Flats school, and to the new Benjamin Franklin Junior high school.

The degree team of Castle Council ranks second to none in the state. The team has participated in the installation of new councils at Franklin, Sharon, New Brighton, DuBois and Brookville, as well as making a seven day trip through the eastern part of the state.

Lodge rooms, consisting of club rooms, a billiard room, a dining room and a lodge room with a dance floor are at the disposal of its members at all times. Castle Council is also equipped with the best uniforms that can be purchased.

PETERS ADVENTURES IN ANIMAL LAND

By Florence Smith Vincent

A HIGHWAYMAN HUMBLED

"Z-z-z-z-z-!"

At first Peter did not pay any attention to the buzzing, but it became so loud that at last he looked about to see where the noise came from. There, hovering in mid-air directly above his head, was an insect with wings larger than but somewhat like those of a fly and with a body as sharp as a darning needle.

"Z-z-z-z-z! I could tell you something if I wanted to" declared the stranger, fiercely. Swooping down, he hovered in mid-air, on a level with the boy's eyes, glaring at Peter in a manner that seemed anything but friendly.

Peter laughed.

"Pooh! You can't scare me" declared he. "You may make the insects believe you are the most dangerous hunter in the land, but I know you for a harmless, kind-hearted old flyer. Stop looking cross, Dragon-Fly, and tell me where Hoppy went, for I am sure that is what you mean. You could tell if you would."

Dragon-Fly, for the boy's guess had been right, made a queer sound that must have been intended for a chuckle. Then he smiled, and if you don't know how comical he looks when he does so.

"Righto!" said Dragon-Fly, pleasantly. "Since you are too bright to be fooled for very long I may as well admit that I saw Hop Toad hopping off toward the lilac bush. By this time he has hidden himself where it would take bright eyes to find him. Between you and me he's not worth looking for. I am glad that you treated him just as you did. My, but Hoppy was furious! It isn't often the old Highwayman has a trick played upon him. I was watching and I nearly cracked my sides laughing. He opened and shut his mouth like a fish out of water. His cruel tongue ran in and out as fast as a snake's and it didn't catch a thing. He thought you were his friend, too. That's what made him madder than losing the Bees—to think you would turn against him the way you did. Ha Ha! Hee! Hee Hop Toad lost his temper and his hollow at the same time. Now he will have to dig himself another pool in which to soak up the rain drops. I must hurry and tell the flyers how you turned your back on the bold brigand and ran to warn the Bees!"

"MY, BUT HOPPY WAS FURIOUS! 'TISN'T OFTEN HE HAS A TRICK LIKE THAT PLAYED UPON

Worthy of Special Attention!

The eyes of the country are often turned toward Pittsburgh. Now the appetites are turned this way. Pittsburgh has created a new food—a wonderful food—that will hurry the world to breakfast.

The House of Heinz, and the Heinz research specialists in Mellon Institute have developed a process that gives rice a new meaning—and a place of greater importance on every table.

In Heinz Rice Flakes, with their delicate crispness and fascinating popcorn flavor, you would not recognize the rice of old.

Here is something delightfully different. And, furthermore, remarkably healthful because of the process owned exclusively by Heinz which so utilizes the natural roughage of the rice that it imparts a moisture-absorbing quality which is one of Nature's best eliminative aids.

Heinz Rice Flakes are always crisp in cream or milk. Eat them both for flavor and health.

INSURANCE COMPANIES NOW ISSUE POLICIES FOR AERIAL PASSENGERS

Accident insurance companies, without extra charges are now adding aviation clauses to their policies, which shows the increasing reputation for safety and reliability being required by airplane transportation companies.

The clauses which are added provide for payment of indemnity in case of injury to the insured, if he is "riding as a passenger in a licensed airplane or a licensed passenger dirigible airship provided by an incorporated passenger carrier."

The action of the insurance companies in voluntarily extending their policies, without increased premium, to cover aerial transportation, is said to be due to the record of reliability established by the air mail service lines.

F. J. M. Purton, a resident of Blackheath, England, who has given 40 years to the study of aviation, claims to have perfected a practical machine that is able to rise at once without the long preliminary run and "take off" required by ordinary planes.

ASK ME ANOTHER! LIBRARIANS READY

In the following article, Miss Alice M. Sterling, librarian at the New Castle public library, sets forth the duties of those in charge of the reference department of the institution. This is the second of a series of articles being published, telling of the work of the persons in charge of the different departments.

It follows:—

"What are the duties of a city commissioner?"

"How do you preserve flowers for winter decoration?"

"What is the address of Dr. Miller McClintock of Harvard?"

"Can you find me something about the immigration laws?"

As varied as human nature, are the questions which come to the reference room of the public library. Each one must be looked up. Sometimes the search extends over several days, sometimes it must be referred to the Carnegie Library of Pittsburgh.

In addition to these individual questions the reference department also makes a bibliography of the material in the library for each club woman who has a paper to prepare. As soon as the club and reading circle yearbooks are received in the summer and fall, the material is looked up, so that it may be ready when the person who needs it appears at the library.

Material is also collected and reserved for teachers on special assignments. Grade school, high school and university extension teachers make use of this privilege. The material cannot be taken out during the reserve period, so that each student has the same opportunity to use it. Collections on forestry, pedogogy, history, poetry, commerce and many other subjects have been made and used.

The reference books are supplemented by a collection of magazines and a file of pamphlets.

Bring your questions to the library.

STATE AGENCIES PLAN HARMONY

State Departments To Cease Competitive Bidding For State Lands

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Pa., Aug. 25.—Under a new policy agreed upon between the State Department of Forests and Waters and the Game Commission, the old practice of competitive bidding between the two buyers of land for the state ended today.

At a meeting of the State Forest Commission yesterday, a checkup revealed that the owners of more than 200,000 acres of land are anxious to have the state take it over if the proper price can be agreed upon. Secretary Dorworth said that the land offered is twice what the state will be able to buy at the present time with the $500,000 available.

Dorworth announced that under the agreement between the state agencies, each will buy only after the other has been consulted. The new plan is expected to increase the acreage the state will be able to buy, for both departments because of the reduced prices which will result.

The majority of the acreage offered to the state for purchase is classed as "forest waste."

Piles Go Quick

No Cutting or Salves Needed

External treatments seldom banish Piles.

The cause is inside—bad circulation.

The blood is stagnant, the veins flabby.

The bowel walls are weak, the parts almost dead.

To quickly and safely rid yourself of piles you must free the circulation—send fresh, healthy blood to the raw, sensitive membranes. Internal treatment is one safe method. Ointments and other external treatments can't give lasting relief.

J. S. Leonhardt, M. D., a specialist, set at work some years ago to find a real internal remedy for piles. He succeeded. He named his prescription HEM-ROID, and tried it in hundreds of cases before he was satisfied. Now HEM-ROID is sold by druggists everywhere under guarantee. It is a harmless tablet, easy to take, and can always be found at McKee's Kut Rate, Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc., who will gladly refund the purchase price to any dissatisfied customer.

Break Records For Production

Crude Oil Production For Last Year Exceeds All Records.

LARGEST INCREASE RECORDED IN TEXAS

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—All records for the production of crude oil were broken in the United States last year, the bureau of mines in the department of commerce announced today.

The American petroleum production in 1926, the bureau announced, amounted to 770,874,000 barrels, smashing all previous records. This total represented an increase of 7,131,000 barrels over the 1925 output.

"The major portion of the increase," the bureau declared, "was recorded in Texas. Production in California, the leading producing state, dropped off approximately 8,000,000 barrels, but Oklahoma registered a gain of about 2,500,000 barrels and established a new record. The most important fields from the standpoint of new production were Spindletop (deep sand) and Panhandle in Texas and Ventura Avenue and Washington Beach in California. The most important discoveries of the year were the Seminole fields in Oklahoma and the Seal Beach field in California."

The bureau announced that imports of crude petroleum amounted to 60,382,000 barrels in 1926, a slight decrease over the preceding year. Sharp decreases in oil imports from Mexico, it was stated, were nearly offset by increased imports from South American countries.

The total value of the petroleum produced last year was $1,447,760,000 at the wells, the bureau declared a 13 per cent increase in value of the production over 1925. The average price for the year was $1.68, a gain of 20 cents over 1925. At the end of the year, there were 318,600 producing wells, a gain of 12,500 over 1925, and the average production per well was 7.4 barrels. The bureau further announced that 29,319 wells were drilled last year, of which 19,013 were oil wells, 2,341 gas wells and 7,965 dry holes.

Press Experts Open Geneva Convention

By DAVID M. CHURCH
International News Service Foreign Correspondent

GENEVA, Aug. 25.—The international conference of press experts, meeting under the auspices of the League of Nations, opened here on Wednesday, with the press of 36 nations represented.

Lord Burnham of the British delegation, who is acting chairman, made the opening address.

The morning session was taken up with discussion of questions of procedure. The first preliminary skirmish took place over the question of whether the steering committee should be elected by direct vote of the conference or appointed from the chair. After several ballots the election by direct vote was decided upon.

While the conference was getting under way many preliminary private conferences were going on outside the conference hall. Most of these dealt with proposals in the conference agenda, particularly the draft of a resolution concerning property rights in news. The independent, unofficial, non-governmental news agencies, who bitterly oppose the draft, on grounds that it would create a monopoly in news, are seeking a solution of the question.

The International News Service group, headed by Mm. Koenigsberg, have been intrusted with the task of evolving a substitute resolution which would reaffirm American and British court decisions that news, as news, is public property, and that quasi-rights can only be established as between competitors engaging in unfair competition.

This resolution may go even further and declare that a discussion of the public's right to news will create precedents which might eventually be used to break down the accepted principles, and that the public has full rights to all news.

BIG SHOVEL IN OPERATION

Formal Ceremony Marks Start Of Operations For Grant Machine

Approximately 150 visitors from all parts of Western Pennsylvania and Eastern Ohio were at the Carbon Limestone quarries in Hillsville Wednesday afternoon, August 24 when "The Spirit of Carbon", the world's largest limestone stripping steam shovel was put into operation.

The giant shovel was christened by Miss Ruth Earnshaw, daughter of F. O. Earnshaw, general manager of the quarries, and then proceeded to demonstrate to the guests what enormous mouthsful of earth it could chew up.

For the refreshment of the guests, tents had been erected and here a picinic lunch was served. A cameraman representing a motion picture company was present and "shot" the proceedings.

The shovel will be used by the Carbon Limestone company in stripping overburden from the the limestone deposits owned by the company and is expected to expedite a work which has hitherto been sometimes held up because of lack of facilities such as the "Spirit of Carbon".

Senior High School Faculty To Present Eight New Teachers

One Vacancy In Faculty To Be Filled Before School Resumes

Eight new teachers will be in list of instructors at the Senior High school this year, according to F. L. Orth, principal of the school.

One vacancy still exists, however. It is the place of Prof. Clarence E. Baer, who resigned to become supervisor of science for the public schools of New York state.

Prof. P. M. Jordan, a former instructor at the school, was offered the position but declined it. Mr. Jordan is teaching at a school in Connecticut at the present time.

The eight new teachers who will teach at the school this year, the subjects they will teach and their home towns, are as follows:

Miss Charlotte Taylor, business English and assistant in the Monitor work, New Castle.

Miss Grace Jones, English II, New Castle.

Miss Lezetta Wheale, ancient and industrial history, New Castle.

Miss Margaret Goodwin, advanced mathematics, Richmond, Va.

Miss Martha Smith, mathematics and plane geometry, New Castle.

Miss Genevieve Riddle, shorthand and typewriting, Grove City.

Miss Helena Stevenson, Commercial law, commercial mathematics and office training, Grove City.

Miss Suzanna Young, succeeds Miss Virginia McMasters as Librarian; Miss Young was formerly assistant librarian at the Carnegie library at Pittsburgh. Her home is in Pittsburgh.

Seagulls hovering over the water attracted the notice of a Massachusetts fisherman. He went to investigate and found a lump of ambergris valued at over $12,000.

To Those Who Know They Have

HIGH BLOOD PRESSURE

If you are one of the thousands who have been told by a doctor or an insurance examiner that you have high blood pressure, you should obtain relief by taking Norma, a physician's prescription.

As high blood pressure is not a disease, but the manifestation of some bodily disorder or abnormality, to secure the full benefit of Norma it is advisable to supplement its use by medical or hygienic measures to remove the cause.

Norma, however, usually does reduce high blood pressure and thereby tends to relieve the strain on heart and arteries. It is a purely vegetable medicine made from a doctor's prescription and has proved wonderfully successful in thousands of cases. Get Norma today at McKee's Kut Rate Store, Love & Megown, Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc. or any other good drug store.

Very Rev. F. F. O'Shea Observing Twentieth Anniversary In City

Pastor Of St. Mary's Congregation Also Observing Notable Anniversary.

Progress Of Local Congregation Has Been Marked Under His Guidance.

VERY REV. F. F. O'SHEA, LL D., P. R., V. F.

While the present year marks the seventy-fifth anniversary of the formation of St. Mary's parish in this city, it is also the twentieth year of the pastorate of Very Rev. Florence F. O'Shea, LL D., P. R., V. F.

And it is fitting and proper in connection with the coming dedication of the magnificent new church of St. Mary's Parish, also the observance of the diamond or seventy-fifth jubilee of the parish, that due credit must be given to the leader of the parish, who has ably led the parish to its present standing in such a successful manner.

Assumed Charge In 1907

When Rev. Fr. O'Shea assumed charge of St. Mary's Parish, November 15, 1907, it marked the turning point in the affairs of the parish and its expansion to its present proportions, namely one of the most important in the Diocese of Pittsburgh, with a completely equipped plant worth approximately $1,000,000 and with but the small indebtedness of $100,000 outstanding at the present time and that due to the building of the wonderful new house of worship.

Rev. Fr. O'Shea was born in Killarney, Ireland in 1863 and came to this country in his early boyhood. He received his primary education in this country. He entered St. Bonaventure's College, Allegany, N. Y., in 1884 to study for the priesthood and was ordained for the Diocese of Pittsburgh by Rt. Rev. Stephen Vincent Ryan, Bishop of Buffalo in 1889.

In Allegheny

During the period of time from his ordination to May 1892, he was assistant at St. Peter's, Allegheny, now North Side, Pittsburgh, from which place he went to become pastor of Holy Trinity church, Huntingdon, Pa. In the fall of 1892, he was transferred to St. James' church, Sewickley, Pa., where he did an excellent and successful work for more than fourteen years. His appointment as pastor of St. Mary's parish, New Castle was made October 31, 1907, and he assumed charge on November 15 of the same year.

When he arrived in the local parish, the parochial school was found to be inadequate for the needs of the parish and he caused it to be remodelled into the present school building. Three classrooms were added by remodelling the third floor hall and making other changes in the building. It provided nine rooms in all for school purposes and the cost was $3,000. This change has tided over the school system of the parish until the present time.

Build Rectory

In 1908, he caused to be undertaken the erection of the present fine rectory on North Beaver street, immediately in the rear of the new church, at a cost of approximately $30,000. This cost has been paid off.

The next move was the removing of the convent from its former location on North street on the site of the new church, across the street beside the old church. It was remodelled and repaired and placed in good condition at a cost of $6,000. This was in 1913.

Now comes the new church, which cost approximately $450,000 and which is all paid for with the exception of $100,000.

Just what the future holds for the parish under his able leadership, is of course, a matter of conjecture at the present time, but there is every indication that it will eventually mean a fine new school building and a new convent. When these have been secured, the parish will have one of the finest and most complete plants in the country.

Receives Honors

As is natural, Rev. Fr. O'Shea owing to his prominence and the success with which he has conducted his work here, has received honors and titles.

First of all he has the honorary degree of LL D. This was conferred on him by his alma mater, St. Bonaventure's College. He was for many years president of the alumni of that institution.

Another title to which he has the right is that of P. R., which means permanent rector. In other words the priest appointed to the local parish is irremovable and holds the appointment during life and is entitled to such title and lifetime rectorship by reason of the fact that the parish is a complete plant in itself, having a church, a school, a rectory and a convent.

And lastly, he bears the title of V. F., which is the abbreviation for Vicar Forane, which means rural dean. In this connection he is entitled to the designation Very Reverand. There are but twenty-five priests in the diocese entitled to such an honor.

He is dean of twenty churches in Lawrence county and Beaver county and as such has many duties other than that of conducting the affairs of St. Mary's parish.

It entails an official visitation once each year to these various parishes, and the supervision of the church records and inspection of the church equipment, etc.

The official designation of a rural dean or vicar forane follows: Rural Deans are vicars delegated by the bishop as "Occuli Episcopi" (eyes of the bishop) to inquire into the conduct of the clergy and faithful in the administration of temporalities in that district or part of a diocese over which they have been placed." In other words, Rev. Fr. O'Shea besides his duties as leader of St. Mary's parish, has charge of the twenty churches under his supervision as dean and is required to see that these churches conduct their affairs in accordance with the rules and regulations of the Catholic church.

That the honors he has been given are merited is indicated by the progress made by St. Mary's parish.

NO CHANCE WHATEVER

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—Spooning or "necking" more modernly called, on Potomac river received a hard blow when the bureau of navigation announced that canoeists must carry lanterns or be arrested. And giving fictitious names in case of arrest will not shield the guilty persons from publicity. Lovelorn folk have to find another place.

PA NEWC OBSERVES

Persons who ride the street cars from the north hill to the south side, or from the south side to the north hill, aren't so enthusiastic about the traffic changes made of late. It is now necessary to walk almost two blocks in order to make the transfer from one car to the other. The Highland cars stop north of Apple Way and the South Side cars stop near the Mill street bridge.

It might be a good idea if some arrangement could be made whereby the vacant property along North Mill street, just north of Falls street, could be used now and then as parking space for autos, when functions are under way at The Castleton hotel, soon to be opened. This plot is near to the hotel and parking arrangements could be made for twenty-five or thirty cars at least.

As we surmised some months ago when the "Fifteen mile speed limit" signs were placed on the telephone poles along the streets of this city, warning autoists about the speed regulations, they were put down so low that they are being battered down. Several we have noted are already broken off, and how long the remainder will stay up is a matter for conjecture. They should have been placed higher above the ground.

And by the way, do you know that New Castle is one of the best lighted cities of the country. 'Tis a fact.

Some day, that Walmo section, just outside this city, will be annexed to New Castle. And when it is, there will be a fine residential section added. Some mighty fine residences have been and are being built in that fast growing district.

We didn't notice that many porch chairs were occupied last night, at New Castle homes. 'Twas rather cool for enjoying the out of doors, just sitting on the porch, we'll admit.

About time for the migration of black birds, and the consequent annoyance in some neighborhoods, which lasts for two or three weeks annually. Every Fall some thousands of black birds make this city a migration stop-over, and hold a convention here, it seems.

Talking about pests, the pesky little gnats that fill the air at the present time and about as annoying as anything of like size that we know of.

Reports in Cleveland show that 276,000 persons visited the public library in that city during the past year. Also that countless thousands never were inside the building. Wonder how New Castle compares? Have you ever been inside the New Castle public library? Do you know where it is? Better take time out some of these days and drop around, seeing for yourself what a fine institution this city supports in the public library on North Jefferson street.

Danger From Poison On Unwashed Fruits

All Fruits Should Be Thoroughly Washed Before Being Eaten

Only the scientists on the outer picket line and the farmers and gardeners in the front trenches know the severity of the warfare that the human race is waging against the insects that threaten the health and wealth of man and also his food supply, declares Ernest S. Clowes in the September Hygeia.

This fight against the insect world is carried on by chemical warfare, poisonous solids, liquids and gases in huge quantities being used, so that there is some danger of the consumer's being damaged in health if not killed outright by the very weapons intended to protect him from his enemy.

Unfortunately the insect does not eat all the poison that is spraved on the fruit or vegetable. If the remainder is removed before the product is eaten there is no danger to man. Of course, it takes so much more poison to kill a man than an insect that the small amount consumed in eating one apple or tomato is negligible. However, if the dose is repeated daily for years, it may be another story. This is especially true because the poisons most used, arsenic and lead, are poisons which the body cannot get rid of.

The remedy lies in washing carefully all fruits and vegetables, since the use of the poisons cannot be eliminated.

THIRTEEN DIE IN TRAIN CRASH

(International News Service)

LONDON, Aug. 25.—An all night search of the wreckage of the Southern Railway passenger express train which was derailed near Sevanoaks revealed a total death roll of 13 today. Six of the dead are women. Of the 50 who were injured half are in serious condition and it is feared that the death list will be increased. It was the worst train wreck in the British Isles since 1921.

The train was bound for Folkestone and was travelling at 60 miles an hour when the locomotive left the rails, dragging all the coaches after it. Recent heavy rains are supposed to have weakened the roadbed, thus causing the disaster.

Volunteer rescue workers were rushed to the scene in motor cars. The injured were removed from the debris and rushed to hospitals in Sevenoaks and Tunbridge.

Registrations For Kindergarten Can Be Made This Week

Members Of Board Will Be in The Lincoln School Offices Friday And Saturday

ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 25.—At the first meeting of the 1927 season of the official board of the Parent and Teachers association last night in the Lincoln school building it was decided to set aside the hours between 4 and 6 on Friday and Saturday afternoons of this week for the registration of the kiddies for kindergarten.

It was hoped that the kindergarten would be a part of the school curriculum this year and included in the taxes but such could not be done, so the institution will be run semi-privately as last year the tuition payable in advance at the time of registration.

All children between the ages of 4 and 6 are eligible to attend the kindergarten which will be conducted in the Hartman school with Miss Wilson continuing as teacher.

A financial statement for last year is presented as follows:

Total	$1,187.28

Leaving a balance of $120.02 for opening the institution this year.

THREE WOMEN UNDER ARREST

Charged With Being Leaders Of Mob Of Women Who Attacked Deputies

(International News Service)

ST. CLAIRSVILLE, O., Aug. 25.—Three women, said to be the leaders of a mob of 75 women which late Wednesday attacked a force of eight deputy sheriffs given safe conduct to 15 non-union miners enroute to the Florence mines, near here, are under arrest here today.

They are to be charged with rioting and assault to kill, according to attaches of the office of County Prosecutor Waddell. The women registered at the county jail as Josephine Holewick, Catherine Niska and Margaret Luposki.

According to Sheriff Hardesty, the deputy sheriffs and the non-union workers had passed through a mile of picketed territory where five union posts have been established, and were about to pass upon mine property when the women, armed with clubs, bricks, stones and eggs, attacked them. The deputies, Hardesty said, attempted to disperse the women with clubs when they were attacked.

Deputy Sheriff Baker was bitten by one of the women, while the club of one deputy is said to have crashed upon the nose of a woman, she has not been arrested.

The women are to be charged and arraigned, Friday, upon the return of Prosecutor Waddell.

There are now 15 men and women under bond in Belmont county charged with rioting and assault to kill, as a result of clashes between union pickets and sympathizers and non-union strike breakers.

Evolution is slow. There is no noticeable change in the disposition of the mosquito since last summer.

DAIRY TOUR IS FINE SUCCESS

Twenty-Five Take Part In Visit To Three County Dairy Farms

Some 25 men attended the county dairy tour which was held yesterday.

The tour, which started at the farm of N. E. Sampson, located one mile north of Fayette on the Mercer-New Castle ash road, was a successful one, according to County Farm Agent H. R. McCullough, one of the men on the tour.

After making a thorough inspection of the Sampson farm, the dairymen left for the J. B. Elder dairy farm at about 11 a. m., Eastern Standard time, where an inspection and discussion took place. At the conclusion of the inspection at the latter farm the tourists left for the Dr. Fred Taylor farm, near Pulaski.

Arriving there about noon, the dairymen made ready for a basket lunch, which had previously been planned. After dinner the men inspected the farm. A discussion, with S. J. Brownell and J. B. R. Dickey of the Pennsylvania State College in charge, was next and last on the program. Mr. Brownell described the breeding program for dairy herds and Mr. Dickey gave a talk relating to the growing of Leguma hay.

At the conclusion of this the dairymen wended their way homeward. The tour was enjoyed by all and much interesting information was derived from the discussions.

NEW CASTLE AND P. R. R. ARRANGE SERIES

COUNTY TITLE IS AT STAKE

New Castle Club To Battle Pennsy Railroad For County Championship.

FIRST GAME IS NEXT WEDNESDAY

Arrangements have been completed for the playing of a five-game series at Centennial field for the championship of Lawrence county. The New Castle club of the Ohio and Pennsylvania League has consented to meet the P. R. R. team winners of the Lawrence County league pennant. The first game of the series will be played next Wednesday night.

Carm Sacco, business manager of the New Castle team and Dan D. Potter manager of the Pennsylavnia team held a conference recently and made arrangments for the 'Litle World's Series."

It will be recalled that the New Castle club defeated the Ellwood City boys for the county championship in a series of interesting games last year. The series this year will be equally as good, if not just a little faster. The Pennsy team is regarded as one of the finest independent teams in the city and they have had easy sailing in their county league battles.

Pennsy Team is Fast.

The P. R. R. boys have practically cinched the pennant in the popular county loop and it was on the strength of this that the proposed series was arranged.

The Pennsy team has won nine games and lost but one in the second half of the league race while the Croton team with seven victories and two defeats stands second. The P. R. R. team must defeat the Wampum boys next Tuesday night to cinch the flag and there is every indication to believe that they will do so.

Twilight Teams Battle Tonight

Lawrence Indies And Ryantown Will Play Fourth Game Of Series Tonight.

The Lawrence Indies and Ryantown teams will play the fourth game of the Twilight League championship series tonight at Centennial Field. The game is called for 6 o'clock, daylight savings time.

The Indies have won two games of the series to date, and they can annex the championship of the loop, by securing a victory tonight. The Ryantown boys have taken one game. Should Ryantown win tonight it will mean the playing of the fifth game to decide the title.

Both teams are on edge for the important tilt tonight. It is likely that Ryantown will send Jenkins or Lintz to the hill, with the Indies calling on S. Zidow or Russu to bring them the bacon.

Mrs. Mallory And Helen Wills Seem Final Contenders

(International News Service)

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Aug. 25.—With the women's national lawn tennis championship tournament virtually half completed, no upsets or reversals in form have occurred to indicate that the ultimate struggle for the title would not be between Mrs. Molla Bjurstedt Mallory, defending champion, and Miss Helen Wills of California, Wimbledon champion, who was forced to relinquish the American title last year on account of sickness. And Miss Wills, the longer the tournament continues, becomes a more overwhelming favorite to defeat Mrs. Mallory.

Whether by fortune or design the draw has given Miss Wills a much easier path to the final round than it has accorded to Mrs. Mallory. Miss Wills in the upper half will meet Mrs. John Hill, of England, today, in a match that should not extend the Californian unduly, while for tomorrow the prospects favor her facing Miss Kea Bouman, the Holland champion who is still many notches below the rank held by Miss Wills.

In the season of 1912 Wilson of the Pittsburgh Nationals made 36 three-base hits, a major league record.

SORDS POINTS

There's Always This Fellow Chick Evans

By JACK SORDS

Chick Evans continues to be one of the outstanding amateur stars of this broad land of ours despite more than a decade of campaigning.

It was 11 years ago that Chick won his first amateur golf title. That was in 1916 when he first stepped into the big time of the mashie and niblick game. For the next two years, war years, little or no golf was played.

In 1919 Chick didn't get anywhere, comparatively speaking, but in 1920, just to remind the sporting world that he was still around—and with a vengeance, he smacked his way to the amateur championship of that year.

So when Chick this year entered the national amateur at Minneapolis the whole caboodle of entrants, from Bobby Jones on down, knew that their chances of copping were just a wee bit slimmer because another good man was in their midst.

The United States Golf Association put Chick Evans in the second ten in its ranking. This hardly marks up to his real ability. Chick is still a good first ten man and don't forget it.

There ought to be a lot of good golf in his system yet. Evans still ranks among the best mashie-niblick wielders in amateurdom, bowing to none save, probably Jesse Sweetser.

RACING PIGEON DROPPS TO STREET

New Castle Man Picks Up Wounded Pigeon, Evidently From Cleveland

A pigeon bearing on its leg band "No. 6934, Cleveland, AJ27" was found by Harry R. Jones of 74 South Lee avenue, who discovered the bird in a dazed and injured state near the electric sub station of the P. O. Electric company on Vogan avenue.

Apparently the bird which was likely entered in a pigeon race as it flew over New Castle struck the many wires at the sub station and fell to the ground stunned.

Mr. Jones is holding the bird at his home hoping to hear from the owner within a few days.

Buckeye Maidens Defeat Pottery

The Buckeye Bloomer girls defeated the Shenango Pottery maidens by a score of 22 to 7 in a fast game staged on the Buckeye diamond on Wednesday night.

The Buckeye girls tallied at least four runs in every inning with the exception of the third. A. Donly on the knoll for the Pottery girls was pounded hard and relieved by Padovano.

Pearl pitched a fine game for the Buckeye girls, holding the Pottery team to 12 hits. E. DeLillo was the feature hitter of the game with a home run and double. M. DeLillo and E. Hill also hit timely for the Buckeyes.

The Donly sisters were the heavy hitters for the Pottery team.

Dry Goods Team Downs Printers

'Len" Kisthart and his New Castle Dry Goods baseball team won a game last night. The Dry Goods experts downed the New Castle News Printers at Colonial field by a score of 13 to 8.

Walter Kerr, star Croton M. E. heaver, had the rubber assignment for the Dry Goods team and pitched a steady game, allowing the Printers ten hits but keeping them scattered. McNicholas on the hill for the Printers pitched a fine game, but was given ragged support by his mates.

The Dry Goods boys staged one of those hour and a half rallies in the fourth inning and batted in seven runs. If they would throw this inning out, the Printers would have won the game.

The Printers started a rally in the sixth inning and clubbed in four tallies. Had the game gone much farther, the Printers would have won, they say.

Losing Streak Of Cubs Ended

Hack Wilson Emerges From Slump At Same Time.

OTHER NATIONAL TEAMS ARE IDLE

By LES CONKLIN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—The Cubs have ended their losing streak of five games and Hack Wilson, their big hitter, has emerged from a long batting slump at the same time. This may mean that the Bruins, who apparently had cracked wide open, may rally in time to stave off the rush of their three rivals for the National League flag.

Wilson walloped three home runs as the Cubs split a double bill with the Phillies. He is now tied at 23 with Cy Williams for circuit clouting honors in the National League.

The Phils pulled the first game out of the fire in the ninth, scoring five runs off Guy Bush and winning 7 to 6. Then the enraged Bruins slaughtered the Slowtown boys in the nightcap 13 to 1. Wilson got six hits in all during the festivities.

The other National League teams were idle. The Cubs still lead the Pirates by 2½ games.

Tony Lazzeri, "pooshed it up" over the fence in the ninth with the bases full and the Yankees trounced the Tigers 9 to 5. New York's losing streak of four games and Detroit's record winning streak of thirteen games were broken.

Harry Heilmann shot into the lead in the race for American League batting honors by making four hits in as many times at bat.

The Athletics jumped to third place by nosing out the Browns 4 to 3. Rube Walberg helped win his own game with a homer and held the Browns to five hits, snapping their winning streak of six games.

The fading Senators dropped to fourth place by losing to Cleveland, 7 to 1. Cleveland has won four straight. Lefty Miller held the Nats to four hits.

Todt's homer failed to help the Red Sox, who lost to the White Sox 4 to 3.

Christians Meet Methodists Tonight

The Central Christians and First Methodist teams will clash tonight at 6:30 o'clock at the Colonial grounds. The winner of the game tonight will be the champions of the second-half of the Church League race.

It was announced that either Martin or Shiek will hurl for the Christians, with Hughes and Leonard ready to go to the mound for the Methodists.

The First Christians won the championship in the first-half of the league race, and will meet the winners of the second-half for the Church League title.

Ruth' Water-Lou By Feg Murray

I'll bet Lou Gehrig is glad that he forgot about being a left-handed pitcher and started eating pickled eels and hitting home-runs. I remember doing a cartoon and story on Lou back in March, 1925, and wondering where Miller Huggins was going to use this versatile athlete, who could pitch, play first base and the outfield. After doubting that Gehrig was good enough to supplant Wally Pipp at first I surmised that "it may be that the Yankees have in this ex-Columbia student a rival to Frank Frisch, who came to the Giants from Fordham and is now their star and highest salaried player."

A little over two years after that was written we find Gehrig not a rival to the Fordham flash, who is starring for the Cardinals, but a co-attraction with the mighty Bambino, and the possible 1927 home run king. If the hatless, vestless, overcoatless German does beat the Babe at his own specialty, it will be the most interesting and startling happening in baseball in many years.

In 1921, when Ruth made his major league record of 59 home runs in a single season, he hit his 47th and 48th on August 23 and 49th on September 2. In 1920, when he made 54 homers, Babe hit his 44th on August 26. So you can compare Gehrig's mark with these two performances and figure out what he might do to those records of Ruth's.

Henry L. Gehrig, the New York boy who made good in New York, has specialized in homers ever since he played baseball. Back in 1921, when he played for the High School of Commerce, he socked a homer that beat Lane Tech of Chicago in the interscholastic diamond classic between the two cities. They called him "a second Babe Ruth" then, as the original Bambino was in his prime.

RAIN FORCES BUCS TO LOAF

Pirates And Braves Are Idle Games Today.

MEADOWS TO GET FIRST CALL TODAY

BOSTON, Aug. 25. — Rain forced the Bucs to loaf yesterday, and so, Donnie Bush's Pirates are playing a double header with the Boston Braves today, providing the deluge lets up. Another double header will be played Saturday, and a single contest tomorrow.

After two days of almost continuous downpour, the ball field has been thoroughly soaked, and unless the skies clear another postponment is not impossible, in which case the unfinished business will be transferred to Pittsburgh, where the Braves will appear on a four day stretch, beginning September 13. Fair weather is the forecast for today, and it is hoped that both games can be completed.

Standing pat on his pitching selections, Manager Bush expects to use Meadows in the first part of the bargain and Ray Kremer in the second. Kent Greenfield of the Braves, also has had plenty of rest, for he was kept out of the recent encounter with the Cubs so that he would be in perfect working order against the Pirates. Exceptionally poisonous his curves have proven against the Pirates ever since his transfer from New York to Boston. Joe Genewich is due to work, but the Bucs look for Bob Smith to twirl in one of today's encounters.

All friendship between the Braves and the Pirates appeared to terminate when the old Bancroft-Smith fued wound up in blows at Forbes Field last June, and since then the Braves have found much pleasure in launching torpedo after torpedo into the Corsair's craft. They lost one game to the Bucs on the day of the affair, but since then they have taken six out of eight played from the Pirates.

Sweeping three games from the Cubs, the Braves are confident that they can lick anything, and they will do their best to board the Corsair's ship, asking and giving no quarter. Fully aware of this feeling, the Buccaneers likewise are preparing for a scrappy series during their three remaining afternoons in the land of brains and beans.

League Game Is Postponed

On account of the Pennsylvania railroad meet at Pitcairn on Saturday afternoon, August 27, the scheduled game between the P. R. R. and Wampum for Saturday has been postponed until next Tuesday night.

The umpires for the game will be assigned later.

Of the eight unassisted triple plays that have punctuated the records of major league baseball over a period of 50 years, two have been made during the present season.

"Micky" Solomen of this city, kayoed Dick Anthony of Erie, in the third round of a scheduled six round bout at Conneaut Lake Park on Wednesday night.

Jack Drake of Farrell, Pa., won the decision over Stanley Deer of Erie in a six round bout at the Lake last night. Both fighters are managed and trained by Eddie Weygant, former featherweight fighter of this city. Solomen looked mighty impressive in his knockout of the Erie youth. Drake showed to good advantage in his tussle with Deer.

Other fights on the Lake card last night were: Whitey Stevenson of Erie and Ray Collins of Erie. Stevenson won the bout on points in an eight round affair, that was billed as the semi-final bout.

In the main go of the evening "Tug" Phillips of Pittsburgh won the decision over Tod Smith of Canton. The main bout was a ten round affair.

Massillon Tops New Castle 6-1

Hart Outpitches Feigert As Agathons Topple New Castle In League Tilt.

MESSNER FEATURES WITH TWO TRIPLES

The Massillon Agathons easily defeated the New Castle club of the O. & P. league, in a tilt here last night, at Centennial field. The final score was 6 to 1.

The game started out to be a pitcher's battle between Hart and Feigert, and it was a real battle until the eighth chapter when the Agathons clubbed out enough hits to produce three tallies. The Castles tallied their lone marker in the final half of the ninth inning. Bernlohr hit to Beckwith who fumbled the grounder. DeMont walked. Lawrence drove Bernlohr home with a Texas leaguer. [illegible] on base practically every inning but couldn't hit when [illegible] Massillon took advantage of every opportunity given them.

Hart Effective.

"Red" Hart, veteran of many O. & P. battles, limited the Castle to six hits and kept them well scattered. Feigert was not so effective and was touched for ten bingles. The Castles have not defeated Hart for two years, the veteran seems to have the jinx on the locals.

"Bunny" Bernlohr, the Butler first-sacker, played his final game with the Castles last night. Nixon, star first baseman of the Coschocton team of the Eastern Ohio League, made his debut with the local club last night and his hitting and fielding was a feature. DeMont had a busy evening in center field taking care of five chances.

For Massillon Hogan and Messner were the best hitters with three hits apiece. Bobby Way, late of the White Sox, played a bang-up game for the Agathons in the field, taking care of nine chances without a miss.

WANTS TO TAKE IT EASY

MOSCOW, Aug. 25.—Andrew Jokoff reared a family of 54 in Siberia and at the age of 113 decided that it was about time to get some returns from the government for his contribution. He made a trip from Tomsk Province, Siberia, to Moscow to ask officials for old-age pension. His oldest boy, he said, is 80 and teaches school at Omsk.

Fish Are Gone In Golf Tourney

"Hard" Contenders Remain To Battle It Out For Laurels.

THIRD ROUND OF TOURNEY NOW ON

BY DAVIS J. WALSH
Sports Editor Internat'al News Service

MINIKHADA CLUB, MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Aug. 25.—The fish are gone, the fowls remain.

That was a perfectly good idea this morning provided you didn't care when Friday came and you happened to like chicken. Anyhow, it applied to the survivors of the third round of the National Amateur Golf Championship today, namely to wit, Bobby Jones, the sweetheart golfer of golfers; Chick Evans, the boy who once was good and still thinks he has it; Francis Ouimet, the same kind of a guy, only more so; Harrison Johnston, the best golfer in the West; Phillips Finlay, the Watts Gunn of the present tournament: Roland MacKenzie, 1925 medalist; Eddie Held, always good and mostly now, Harry Legg, the man who sent George Von Elm, the 1926 champion, to the showers yesterday.

No fish there, obviously; a fish is always a poor fish in any language, these gents are poor just exactly like Rockefeller, the boy millionaire.

The showdown in effect was here this morning. No saps left; only the good ones and the matches these par-breaking citizens were to play might have intrigued the dramatic soul of a Belasco.

Imagine, for example, any round that guaranteed to couple Johnston, the local pride, with Jones the National sweetheart. This alone would be sufficient to send the gallery into delirium tremens or words to that general effect, if any.

Imagine, again, being told that you could see Finlay, the juvenile leader of 1927, meet Ouimet, a man now but a boy and a hero in 1913. A match between Evans and Held mightn't figure to keep too many away from any course, either. They will meet in one of the third round matches today.

The other match was to bring together MacKenzie, the lad who persists in drawing all decisions finely, a la Tilden, and Legg, the sectional hero as a result of his great round with Von Elm yesterday.

Of course, perforce and without question the passing of Von Elm, that quaint, solid, fighting German-American from the coast, took an undeniable factor out of the rest of the tournament. He lost of Legg yesterday and he did it like a gentleman and a scholar but the unpleasant fact is that he lost and that meant plenty. The great fighter of championship golf was through for 1927.

Yes, the great fighter, who else but a fighter could have beaten Jones out of his title in the final round last year? Who else but a fighter could establish the fact that, previous to yesterday, only Jones was able to beat Von Elm in a championship match since 1923 and that only Von Elm was able to beat Jones during the same interval.

No championship loses a man like Von Elm without losing one of its integral and inherent features. But where it lost today, it gained. For Harry Legg, local headliner, was the man who beat Von Elm and Legg naturally had the town by its civic nostrils.

That was the man, anyhow, who was to take issue with MacKenzie, the dramatist, in the fourth of great matches this morning. Issue as a matter of fact, simply had to be seriously taken in all of them.

For one thing, the boys were to do business today at thirty six holes. The curse of that eighteen hole decision, so feared by all the good ones, was to be off for the rest of the tournament. It seemed possible, therefore, that the rest of the victories, even up to and including the last and final victory, might be decided strictly on their merits.

Too Many Wets In Enforcement Units Says Head

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—"The big trouble is that we have too many men who are heavy drinkers", was the statement made by Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Lowman when asked what was the matter with prohibition enforcement.

"If we had more men that believed in the law, I believe we could make a commendable effort," he went on. Lowman further stated that he hopes that the time will come when the enforcement machinery is put under civil service.

Lowman does not think that he needs more money. Congress has appropriated about $30,000,000 for enforcement this year. All that he asks is a staff of men that are honest, and he does not ask that they be teetotalers.

State Farm Products Show, January 17-20

Many Lawrence county people interested in agriculture will be interested in hearing that the state farm products show commission has approved the recommendation of the general committee that the date for the 12th annual state farm products show, to be held in Harrisburg be on January 17, 18, 19 and 20, 1928.

The general committee which made the recommendation represents more than 25 farmers' organizations, the Pennsylvania State College, Department of Agriculture and the Department of Public Instruction.

This show of the products of the farms of Pennsylvania is attracting larger crowds every year. The time is set at a time of year when it is convenient for farmers as well as others to attend.

Modern people spend more for the joys of living than in any other age ever known. But they demand the utmost value for their money.

Present-day smokers find their sheerest enjoyment in Camels

THE people of this age spend millions for the good things of life. And they place Camel first among cigarettes.

Modern smokers make money, but when they spend it they insist on quality, and more people today buy Camels than ever bought any other cigarette.

Camel value has won the modern world. Money cannot buy choicer tobaccos, nor a more glorious blending. That's why increasing millions in the modern age single out this famous smoke as their favorite. You, too, will find it yours.

SPORTS DONE BROWN

By NORMAN E. BROWN

CHICAGO, Aug. 25.—I have two distinct impressions of Tex Rickard fresh in my mind as I write this after a chat with him in his suite at the Congress hotel.

One is of Rickard, the master promoter, as the public knows him—the man who dabbles in millions as he prepares to stage the Tunney-Dempsey fight. Quartered like a king. A retinue of aides at his beck and call. His private office isolated from the public behind the business offices and a spacious, richly furnished reception room for guests.

The other is of Rickard stepping out of that stage setting on the homely errand of borrowing some cigarettes for two or three of his buddies who had come to visit him. Rickard never smokes cigarettes. His long cigars are a familiar part of him.

Rickard's private office and the reception room are connected by huge double doors with heavy portieres hung before them. This entrance and the general atmosphere is conducive to a dramatic entrance of the famous figure. He emerged, however, from a small door at the side of the room. The iron mask of the Goldfield gambling days wasn't along. He was smiling as he emerged and a playful jolt in the ribs accompanied the greetings.

"I've just been chinning with some folks from back home," he said.

'I want to tell you fellows one thing. This man Getz (the Chicago millionaire who is the official promoter of the fight under the law) is the greatest man I've ever met. He has taken care of everything. He just won't let anybody try to put anything over. You can't realize what a load that takes off my mind."

Getz is many times a millionaire. He has no axes to grind for himself or Mayor Big Bill Thompson. He was chosen by Thompson to head the mayor's committee which laid the lines for staging the big fight in Chicago.

"This is going to be the greatest fight of all time," he averred.

"I don't say that just to boost it. It doesn't have to be boosted. What I say is true because of the fact that Jack Dempsey is out to win back his title. He is the most popular fighter who ever lived. This is his great effort. The public isn't going just to see a heavyweight title bout—to see Dempsey or Tunney lose. Every man is going to see Jack Dempsey, the idol. Jack fighting his way back is greater than he ever was as champion."

Then he discussed a tentative seating plan printed by one of the Chicago papers based on first division of the various priced seats.

"I wish I could carry out that plan," smiled Rickard. Despite the fact that there weren't any $30 seats included the house would have brought me $6,000,000 as it stood. That would be mighty nice."

He listened attentively to a first-hand account of how Dempsey had been cheered like a king on his trip from the coast to Chicago—dragged out of bed in his pajamas to say hello to town folk. And his eyes sparkled.

One got the impression through the entire visit that Rickard carries the new-found happiness of a man who has had his heart set for years on just such a battle as this but, until he arrived in Chicago to take actual charge of putting it on, had no idea that he would achieve his ambition.

TROOPER SLAYER STILL AT LIBERTY

Hunt Goes On But State Police Are Without Much In Shape Of Clues

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 25.—State police had all but given up hope today of apprehending the slayer of State Trooper J. J. Downey of Bridgeport, near Norristown, in the vicinity of Acmetonia, where Downey was shot and killed during a Sacco-Vanzetti riot last Monday.

Police admitted they have no new clues and they were confident that Downey's slayer is not one of the 28 men arrested as having attended the meeting which ended in a riot.

Fourteen of the group were given hearings before Justice of the Peace W. E. Bair in Oakmont, last night, and held for court on charges of inciting a riot.

Meantime, funeral arrangements went forward in Bridgeport, where the slain policeman's body was taken.

HIGH LIGHTS OF HISTORY

Registered U. S. Patent Office.

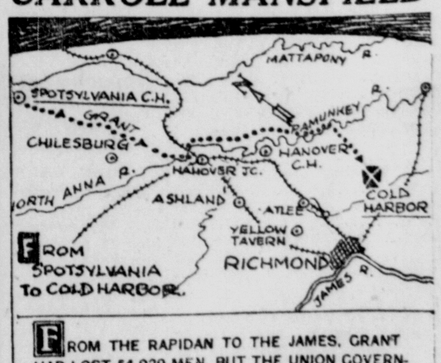
The Battle of Cold Harbor.

by J. CARROLL MANSFIELD

MAY 23, 1864, GRANT MADE A FLANK MARCH TO THE EAST FROM SPOTSYLVANIA COURT HOUSE, AND REACHED THE NORTH ANNA RIVER. ONLY TO FIND THAT LEE HAD ANTICIPATED THIS MOVE, AND WAS HOLDING IMPREGNABLE POSITIONS ON THE SOUTH BANK. GRANT AGAIN MADE A WIDE DETOUR TO THE EASTWARD. MEANWHILE, HIS CAVALRY UNDER SHERIDAN WAS MAKING A DARING RAID IN THE DIRECTION OF RICHMOND TO DRAW OFF LEE'S CAVALRY AND CUT THE ENEMY'S COMMUNICATIONS.

JUNE 2ND, GRANT AND LEE WERE FACING EACH OTHER AT COLD HARBOR, THE SCENE OF McCLELLAN'S OPERATIONS IN '62, ONLY 6 MILES FROM THE DEFENSES OF THE CONFEDERATE CAPITAL. GRANT WAS EAGER TO WHIP LEE'S ARMY BEFORE IT COULD OCCUPY THESE FORTIFICATIONS, AND ORDERED A GRAND ASSAULT UPON THE CONFEDERATE LINE AT ALL POINTS.

ON JUNE 3RD, AT DAYBREAK, THE ATTACK WAS MADE BY 80,000 FEDERALS, BUT THE ASSAILANTS WERE DRIVEN BACK WITH DREADFUL LOSSES. AT COLD HARBOR THERE WAS ALMOST CONTINUOUS FIGHTING UNTIL JUNE 12TH. THEN GRANT, FINDING HIS ADVANCE CHECKED, RESOLVED TO MOVE HIS ARMY TO THE JAMES RIVER AND STRIKE AT RICHMOND FROM THAT DIRECTION.



FROM THE RAPIDAN TO THE JAMES, GRANT HAD LOST 54,929 MEN, BUT THE UNION GOVERNMENT REFILLED HIS SHATTERED RANKS AND THE CAMPAIGN WENT ON. IN THE SAME TIME, LEE HAD LOST ONLY ABOUT 18,000 MEN, BUT IT WAS HARD TO REPLACE THEM, AS THE FIGHTING POPULATION OF THE SOUTH WAS NEARLY EXHAUSTED.

TOMORROW—OPERATIONS ON THE JAMES.

POLICE REPORT BOGUS CHECKS ARE GIVEN OUT

Bogus checks, issued on checks of the American Can Company from the First National Bank, are now being put into circulation here and merchants and others are warned by the police department to refrain from cashing the same.

One of the checks known to have been passed was for $29.50, while another was for a lesser amount.

Investigation by the police has developed the rather interesting fact that the checks being put into circulation were of the type used by the American Can Company back in 1918-1919. This was a time previous to the merger of the First National and National Bank of Lawrence County, and the checks have long been discarded.

How the person cashing the checks came into possession of them is not known. It would be well, police state, for all merchants and others to know the person asking to cash a check before doing so.

CAPTAIN COURTNEY HOPES TO START OCEAN HOP TODAY

(International News Service)

SOUTHAMPTON, Eng., Aug. 25.—Weather permitting, Capt. Frank T. Courtney, British air ace, who will attempt a trans-Atlantic flight to America, hops off between 5 and 6 o'clock this afternoon. Following the failure of Courtney's "flying boat" to rise from the water for a test yesterday, the machine's load was lightened today. Courtney planned to make a test flight at the Calshot navy air depot before beginning his journey toward America.

N. Y. STOCKS

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—After a firm and steady opening, in which higher prices were recorded in a number of speculative leaders, the stock market today sagged under the weight of heavy selling, the persistent bearish professionals offering a liberal volume of the stocks which have been plunging recklessly in the last few weeks and succeeded, for the time being at least, to turning the market trend downward.

Wall street and the financial district in general, were inclined to give more attention to evidences of a slackening in fall trade. Since April every monthly freight tonnage report has shown a decline from the corresponding month of 1926, while steel buying as indicated in the weekly surveys of the trade authorities, is considerably below expectations. Flooding of the markets with "easy money" is far from complimentary to American business as a whole.

There was good buying of a few of the dividend rails, with Atchison, Frisco, New York Central and Southern Railway leading a moderate rally. Atchison reached 200 for the first time in the history of the road.

Mrs. M. A. Davis

Probably the oldest active campaigner for prohibition in the country is Mrs. M. A. Davis, Delaware, O., She is 88 and ever since the 18th amendment became effective she has been campaigning for new pledge signers and members of the Women's Christian Temperance Union, one for each year of her life. This year she completed her quota of 88 new members and will be especially honored at the 53rd annual convention of the W. C. T. U. at Minneapolis, August 25-September 1.

Coke Production Shows Increase

Survey Of Coke Region Reflects Barometer Of Unsettled Market

(International News Service)

CONNELLSVILLE, Pa., Aug. 25.—Reflecting the barometer of an unsettled market that has affected the coke industry for the past few months, production in the Connellsville field increased more than 3,000 tons during the past week, a survey showed today.

With a total weekly production of 68,880 tons from the kilns as compared with 65,130 tons the week previous to that, operators are buoyant over the fact that production is again on an incline. However, the production of the past week is but 54 per cent of that produced for the similar week of 1926, the survey proved. In the corresponding week of last year the total production was 126,860 tons.

Prices for commercial coke remain unchanged in the Connellsville district, the average prices for spot furnace grade being stationary at $3 to $3.25 per ton, with the market price of foundry coke remaining at $4 to $4.25.

Although production is again on the incline, according to the survey, the smaller output for the first eight months of the current year is traced to strikes that have affected the coal industry since last April 1.

Guns Return Fire In Nanking—Chinese Guns Silenced.

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—American guns again have gone into action in China.

Admiral C. S. Williams, commander of the Asiatic fleet, reported to the navy department that the U. S. S. Isabel, flagship of Admiral Hough, was fired upon today while passing Nanking. Rifle shots came both from Nanking and Pukow across the river.

The Isabel returned the fire with rifle and machine guns soon silencing the Chinese fire. The Isabel was hit 50 times.

One American sailor received two slight flesh wounds. There was no other causalties.

Since the arrival of northern troops in the Yangtze district, several ships have been fired upon while passing up and down the river, Williams reported.

Confiscate Guns Two Prisoners Were Carrying

There was trouble in the Levine block, Moravia street and West Lutton street and as a result of it Albert Hall, negro, wended his way to the Fifth ward fire department in search of the police. He found Officers Thomas and Allgier and told them how Leroy McClendon, negro had threatened to shoot him.

The officers went to the Levine block and found McClendon there and with a 38 calibre revolver in the blouse of his overalls. They arrested him. Then they were informed that Hall had a gun and had threatened McClendon and others first. He was also arrested and his home searched and a Spanish make of revolver found.

This morning they told their stories to the mayor and it developed that Hall was wanted on a charge of surety of the peace before Alderman William E. Marshall in connection with the alleged threats made against others.

Both men were discharged and their revolvers confiscated. Hall was taken into custody by Detective Brinton and taken to Alderman Marshall's office.

Sees Difference In European And American Farming

In a comparison of agricultural conditions here and abroad, H. G. Niesley, extension agricultural economist of the Pennsylvania State College, points out some of the significant features of European agriculture as he saw them on his trip this spring and summer.

In Denmark Niesley was very favorably impressed by the well kept, uniform farm buildings; the good, tillable soil and the co-operative enterprises. Some farmers are members of eight different co-operative organizations, including milk plants, bacon factories, cow testing associations, farm record associations and farm credit associations. Traffic problems in Denmark are confined almost entirely to those of bicycle travel, there being one bicycle for every two people in that country.

Farmers Live in Villages

Germany contains a very industrious class of farmers, Niesley reports. There he found the village community life with farming activities carried on considerable distances from the center of the towns. The maximum distance is eight miles and the average between one and one-half to two miles. This means inefficient food production and makes it extremely difficult for the Germans to meet competition.

Land and capital are scarce in Europe, but farm labor is plentiful, as compared to an abundance of land, fairly plentiful capital, and a scarcity of farm labor in America. There hand labor predominates, here machinery does most of the work. Cost of production is low per unit of land in Europe, while in America it is low per unit of weight or measure.

Many Europeans are asking themselves, "Where are we going agriculturally?" The fight is on between a self-sufficing agriculture and free trade.

Butter Replaces Cheese

Changes in the production program have been forced upon European farmers the same as in this country, Niesley asserts. In Switzerland, for example, many cheese factories have been transformed into butter factories. Due to tariff conditions Switzerland has been unable to reach America with cheese. That country now is vying with Denmark for the London butter market.

In Italy the most impressive phase of agriculture, Niesley declares, was the "Battle of the Grain", as Mussolini, the Italian dictator, calls it. This is the attempt to make Italy self-supporting in wheat. New varieties, similar to the famous Pennsylvania 44 which originated at the Pennsylvania State College agricultural experiment station, are being developed. Niesley saw many fields which gave promise of yielding 45 to 50 bushels per acre.

Have Balanced Dairy Program

Holland afforded the best example of a well balanced dairy breeding program. In the province of Friesland the original home of the Holstein-Friesian cow, the breeding operations are based on five points: (1) constitution of the animals; (2) production and butterfat; (3) a calf each year; (4) conformation, breed, type and color, and (5) freedom from disease. About 20 per cent of all the cows in Friesland are in the herd books and 80 per cent are in the cow testing associations.

Agricultural conditions in England were the worst of any country visited, Niesley asserts. Farm prices were low and there was much discontent and complaint. He found that the good farmers, as in America, were getting along fairly well. Dense population, high taxes and unemployment contribute to the distress. Ten per cent of the English people are supported by charity.

In Day's News

As president of the United States Steel corporation James A. Farrell is given added responsibilities with the passing of Judge E. H. Gary, chairman of the board of that great corporation. Mr. Farrell has held the presidency since 1911. Like so many other American leaders of industry and commerce, he is a self-made man. Beginning as a mill boy in a wire mill in New Haven, he steadily advanced until he became general sales manager of the American Steel & Wire company and went to the United States Steel corporation in a similar capacity when it was organized. For many years he has been recognized as one of the best "steel" men in America. Mr. Farrell was the personal choice of Judge Gary for the presidency of the great steel corporation, the two holding the same views as to the way in which the business should be conducted.

Roaming Round With Richards

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle.

This business of roaming carried me to Hillsville Wednesday afternoon to be present at the christening of the "Spirit of Carbon", the new steam shovel used by the Carbon Limestone company. With a shovel like that working as enthusiastically as is possible, Mahomet wouldn't have had to go to the mountain. He could have had the mountain brought over to him. A remarkable shovel, and just to make it interesting for the visitors, F. O. Earnshaw, the general manager, had an outdoor lunch served. Sandwiches and coffee and pickles and, get this, Yellow Bantam corn. Yes, thank you, I did.

I've heard of cattle raisers growing their own wheat, and fishermen eating their own catch, but I never saw an undertaker before who raised his own flowers. Noticed last night that Dave Ritchie, the genial "planter" of the south side has one of the most gorgeous beds of asters you ever laid eyes upon. Huge balls of blue and white.

Santos Ortegos, the golfing-actor, or the acting-golfer, whichever you will, has answered recent references to him in this column. Santos claims it was a dirty dig, exposing his weakness to the world. He insists that he's not the worst golfer in the world, only the second worst. His letter ends with this statement, "However, I contend that I am a greater actor than any golfer, and a greater golfer than any actor." Try that on your radio.

I also got another letter in this morning's mail from a travelling man who is or was a guest at the Fountain Inn. Appreciate his good intentions, but really, old man, so many writers have been belittlin' the Eighteenth Amendment that I decided this column would be original in this respect, that it took no nasty cuts at the constitution.

Some of you who read the paper may believe that everything a reporter writes gets into the paper. Not always. During nebulous days every reporter goes through, those days of plasticity when he is known as a Cub, not everything is printed. Every newspaper man has been a cub in his time, every office has one or more cubs all the time. Here's a lament from a lad who signs himself a cub, but who really has developed some claws.

A CUB'S LAMENT
I wrote a page
And they printed a line,
I flew in a rage
For I'd written a page
It took me an age
(I thought it was fine!)
I wrote a page
And they printed a line.

That, customers, is a triolet. You'll recall the various forms of poesy no doubt.

Out at park last night for a ride and a dance or two. Y'know, if the old time dances, schottisches, reels and quadrilles came back into style, about 80 per cent of us who claim to be modern dancers would be on the sidelines. In those days you had to be a dancer to get by, nowadays you have to be a gymnast.

And will that lady who tramped on my feet as she breezed by on the floor, please throw out her hand when she's going to make a stop or turn?

Women Athletes Now Facing Fresh Danger

While participation in sports and games has not been harmful to girls in the way that was prophesied in the last century, there is a danger which the modern sportswoman has to meet that was lacking formerly, states Elizabeth Halsey in the September Hygeia. This danger lies in the exploitation of the young athletes.

When a team is trained and taken about the country to advertise and otherwise undistinguished community or a business concern, wholesome sport and good sportsmanship and even the girls' health and morals are in danger of being sacrificed. Even interscholastic competitions demand too much of the young players. The big unruly crowds that attend high school games push the girls beyond the limit of their endurance and much harm results.

For this reason, most progressive colleges are substituting interclass for interscholastic games for girls and women. "Sports for all" has come to be the new slogan, which may well be amended to "sports for all time," in the opinion of Miss Halsey, who thinks schools should pay more attention to sports that can be carried on after graduation, individual sports like swimming, tennis, golf, riding and hiking.

When men of three nations come out of a disarmament conference without agreeing or quarreling the world is getting better.

MELLON VIEWED AS CANDIDATE WITH MANY SERIOUS HANDICAPS

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Exclusive Central Press Dispatch to New Castle News

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—If President Coolidge positively won't run again in 1928, that means, to a certainty, that he won't, which constitutes a completely rounded, unqualified sensation—

Whereas, if Andrew W. Mellon is a candidate for the Republican presidental nomination in 1928, his candidacy by no means insures his nomination, to say nothing of his election, so that the Mellon sensation, if any, is only a contingent one—

And therefore not in a class with the Coolidge sensation.

* * *

Assume, however, for the sake of argument, that Andrew Mellon really is going to succeed Calvin in the White House, and you've got a sensation at least equal to the one of August 2, when the President announced what he doesn't "choose" to do next year—maybe more so, for it certainly makes more difference to the country who its next President is than who he isn't.

* * *

Little hints hooking up Secretary of the Treasury Mellon's name with the presidency have been afloat for several months, on the theory that Coolidge might not seek another term. When Coolidge said explicitly that he didn't, these hints became pretty definite.

But it can't be recorded that many people took them at all seriously.

Nobody disputed the magnificence of Mellon's proportions, to be sure, but he simply wasn't regarded as adapted to presidential purposes; just as you might acknowledge the Leviathan to be by far the largest, finest liner afloat, without considering her at all well designed for overland travel

Now, however, that Governor John S. Fisher of Pennsylvania, the treasury secretary's home state, has formally launched a Mellon presidential boom—with the second commonwealth, numerically, in the Union behind it—the time's past when the movement can be pooh-poohed.

As yet the thing can hardly be called Mellon's boom—in the possessive—because Mellon, in Europe, hasn't personally okehed it, but it's impossible to believe Fisher'd have gone so far without his approval.

You can't visualize these hard-boiled Mellonites as going after anything without some good reasons for believing they can get it.

But Mellon's handicaps!

He's one of the world's richest men—and most conservative. Every advanced and even slightly advanced element couldn't but be against him.

He's 'anti" every kind of farm relief that the farmers demand.

He's a wet—for "law enforcement", of course, but so's Captain W. H. Stayton, executive head of the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment. The drys have complained repeatedly that they cannot make Volsteadism stick while Mellon's in office.

And his age!

True, he's as alert and active and chipper as many a man of half his age, but he's 72, for all that—would be 74 before he could be inaugurated, if elected, and 78 at the end of his first term, not to mention a second.

He's a wonderful financier—that's admitted. Big business and all the money interests would be for him, like so many ton of brick, on his record and his merits. But would they be willing to trust him to live quite so close to 100? And what good would he be to 'em if he died in office? They certainly would want to make mighty sure that their kind of a vice presidential candidate was on the ticket with him.

Gas Cut 6c

Milwaukee, Wis.—To offset the gas tax now in force in most states and the high cost of gasoline, auto owners welcome the announcement of a marvelous new invention that increases mileage to such an extent that a 6c saving per gallon of gas is really a conservative figure. Thousands of cars have already been equipped and their owners not only report amazing gas saving but notice increased power, quicker pick-up, instant starting and disappearance of carbon. E. O. Oliver, 999 Third St., 3929-W, Milwaukee, Wis., needs men everywhere to help him supply the tremendous demand. Interested parties should write him at once for his free sample and $100 a week money making proposition.—Adv.
